CLEVELAND IN ELMIRA.

GREETING THE REFORM CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

Fully Fifty Thousand People Greet the Presence of New York's Reform Governor--The Scenes of Joy on the Fair Grounds--Governor Cleveland's Speech--Etc., Etc.

ELMIRA, N. Y., September 8.—This a gala day for Elmira. It is estimated that there are 50,000 persons in the city and on the fair grounds. Governor Cleveland, accompanied by his private secretary, Lamont, and Adjutant General Farnsworth, arrived at 5:40 o'clock this morning. At the governor's special request no demonstration was made at that hour, aside from the salute of twenty-one guns by the Cleveland Battery. The party were met at the depot by Lieutenant Governor Hill, Mr. M. K. Arnot, and a number of spectators, despite the early hour, were on hand to catch a sight of the governor, who was driven directly to the residence of Mr. Arnot, whose guest he will be. At 11 o'clock, in company with the managers of the institution, the governor and Colonel Lamont visited the state reformatory.

AN OVATION ON THE GROUNDS.

Governor Cleveland and party received a perfect ovation at the fair grounds. Crowds followed the carriage in which the party rode from point to point, with cheers for Cleveland. "There goes Cleveland," and a shout would be heard on all sides. The governor expressed himself as being well pleased with the fair. He commenced speaking at 2:45 p. m., from his carriage, which was in front of Manufacturers' hall. He was introduced by the president of the fair association. Immediately after Cleveland rose, a great cheer went up from the multitude of 15,000 persons present, shouting themselves hoarse. The governor's remarks were listened to with great attention, and he was often interrupted with cheers. He spoke as follows:

GOVERNOR CLEVELAND'S SPEECH.

It affords me great pleasure to meet you here to-day, to have an opportunity of inspecting the annual exhibition which illustrates the condition of the agriculture of our state. I regard these annual fairs as something connected with the state government, as at least they are fostered and aided by public funds and I am sure that no good citizen is inclined to complain of the appropriation of a small part of the people's money to the encouragement of this important interest. The fact that this is done furnishes a distinct recognition by the state of the valuable relation which its farmers and its farms bear to the prosperity and welfare of the commonwealth. We boast of our manufactures, exceeding as they do, largely those of any other state, but our supremacy is clearly shown when we recall the fact that in addition to our lead in manufactures, the value of our farms and their products is second only among the states. There is a fixedness and reliability in agricultural pursuits which are not always found in other branches of industry and human effort. The soil remains in its place ready to be tilled, and the farmer, with ruddy health and brawny arm, depends alone upon the work of his hands and the aid of kind providence for the reward of his labor. Thus our farmers are the most independent of our citizens. They produce, or have within their reach, all they need for their necessities and for their comfort. Their crops may be more abundant at one harvest than another, and their products may command higher prices at one market than another. These conditions expand or contract their ability to indulge in luxuries or in expenditures not absolutely needful, but they should never be in want of the necessaries or comforts of life. This is the sure result of patient and well regulated farming. When the farmer fails or becomes bankrupt in his business, we may, I think, confidently look for shiftlessness or a too ambitious desire to own more land or stock than he can care for, or intermeddling with matters that bear no relation to his, or such mismanagement and ignorance as demonstrates that he has mistaken his vocation. Fortunes may be quickly amassed in speculation, and lost in a day, leaving a bad example, and perhaps demoralization and crime. The tradesman or manufacturer, by the vicissitudes of trade or through the allurements of a short road to wealth may, in a day, be overcome and bring disaster and ruin upon hundreds of his neighbors; but in the industrious, intelligent and contented farmer, the state finds a safe and profitable citizen, always contributing to its wealth and prosperity. The real value of the farmer to the state and nation is not, however, fully appreciated until we consider that he sees millions of our people, who are engaged in other pursuits, that the product of his labor fills the avenues of our commerce and supplies an important factor in our financial relations with other nations. I have not come to attempt to please you with cheap and fulsome praise, nor to magnify your worth and your importance, but I have come, as chief executive of the state, to acknowledge, on its own behalf, that our farmers yield a full return for the benefits they receive from the state government. I have come to remind you of the importance of the interests which you have in charge, and to suggest that, notwithstanding the farmer's independence he can not and must not be entirely unmindful of the value and importance to the interests he holds of a just and economical government. It is his right and duty to demand that all unjust and inequitable burdens upon agriculture and its products, however caused, should be removed, and that while the furtherance of the other interests of the state have due regard, this important one should not be neglected. Thus by his labor as a farmer, and in the full performance of his duty as a citizen, he will create and secure to himself his share of the result of his toil, and save and guard for all people the most important element in the prosperity of the state.

THE NIGHT DEMONSTRATION,

The grandest party demonstration ever made in Elmira took place to-night in honor of Governor Cleveland. The trains returning into the city early in the morning were loaded with people, a majority of whom remained over to-night. Between 6 and 7 o'clock this evening special trains arrived on all the roads reaching the city. People came in by thousands. From 6 o'clock until 8 the air was resonant with the music of bands heading the visiting delegations which came from all directions from a hundred miles around. At 8:39 a line composed of fully 7,000 men, headed by the young men's democratic club of Elmira, got under way. The line of march was through the principal streets. The parade was reviewed by Gov. Cleveland from the Rathburn house. The crowd in front of the balcony was so dense that the parade could hardly force its way through. The procession was also reviewed by Mrs. Parnell, who was at the residence of Hon. J. J. O'Conner. The line of march was an almost continuous blaze of illumination. Gov. Cleveland was obliged to stand for two hours while the vast line of torches was passing. After it had passed Colonel O'Brien, of new York, dismissed the throng with a few words, which were cheered to the echo.

AN INFORMAL RECEPTION.

Governor Cleveland then repaired to the interior of the Rathburn house, and held an informal reception. One of the pleasantest events of the evening was the presentation of a handsome banner to the governor. The banner was of blue silk with an elegant design painted by hand. The centre piece was a portrait of Governor Clevelsnd, while above his head was represented the heavens in which were four stars, labelled "Sobriety," "Justice," "Honesty," "Reform." Behind the hills was to be seen the just rising sun, labelled "Victory." Surrounding the banner was a gilt frame. The gift was from Messrs. Yost and Masher, two young democrats of Hornellsville, N. Y. After an hour of handshaking, Governor Cleveland repaired to the home of W. H. Arnot, to seek needed rest.

It is estimated that fully 30,000 visitors were in the city to witness the demonstration. Governor Cleveland leaves the city at 9 a. m. tomorrow for Geneva, where he will attend the funeral of Secretary Folger.

Nominations for Congress.

HOBOKEN, N. J., September 8.—At the seventh district democratic congressional convention today, Wm. McAdoo, was renominated by acclamation.

THE VOTE IN MAINE.

The Home State of the Republican Candidate at the Ballot-Box.

PORTLAND, Me., September 8.—The citizens of Maine to-day elected a governor, four members of congress, 31 state senators, 115 representatives and full boards of county officers in sixteen counties of the state. A plurality vote elects in Maine. The election passed off quietly. Augusta, Blaine's home, gives Robie, republican, for governor, 1,276; Redman, democrat, 624; scattering, 42. In 1880, Davis, republican, 405; Plaisted, fusion, 894. The ladies worked industriously everywhere for the prohibition amendment, which is probably adopted. Fifty towns in 1884 gave Robie, republican, 18,829; Redman, democrat, 13,286; scattering, 811. The same towns in 1880 gave Davis, republican, 1,756; Plaisted, fusion, 15,599; scattering, 156. The plurality in 1880 was 1,969; in 1884, 5,543. No comparisons can be of value in the congressional election, because the present members were elected on a general ticket after the representation of the state had been cut down from five to four, and the state redistricted.

A DEMOCRATIC INDICATION.

Biddeford gives Robie 976; Redman, 1,386, a democratic majority of 410. In 1880 Biddeford gave 67 republican majority. Lewiston gives Robie 1,512; Redman 1,599, a democratic majority of 67. In 1880 Lewiston gave 125 republican majority. Congressman Dingley, in his own city, Lewiston, gets the same vote as Robie for governor. The democrats are jubilant over both these towns. Both are factory cities.

Portland gives Robie, republican, for governor, 3,971; Redman, democrat, 3,214; scattering, 62; republican plurality, 757. In 1880 the republican vote was 3,536, democrat 3,302, a plurality of 234, being a gain of 523. The plurality was about the same in 1882. Long Island is still to be heard from. Reed, for congress, falls behind, having 37 plurality exclusive of the island, but the democrats concede his election and the republicans claim 500 to 1,300 majority in the district.

THE REPUBLICAN MAJORITY GROWING

Twenty-five towns in Washington county, polling about four-fifths of the total vote, give Robie 3,909, Redman 2,492, a republican majority of 1,419. The same towns in 1882 gave Robie 1,000. The majority on the vote of the remaining towns on the whole will be about equal, and Robie will undoubtedly have 1,300 and probably 1,400 majority in the county. The republicans elect both senators by large majorities, and seven representatives sure, probably eight, out of the ten. Returns from all over the county show a large republican gain, netting between three or four hundred.

The towns of Biddeford, Kittry, Lyman, Old Orchard, Saco and Kennebec give Reed for congress 191 majority. The same towns in 1882 gave Reed 742 majority. The indications are that the republicans elect the whole ticket in York county.

Every town in Lewis county, excepting Lewiston, shows a republican gain. Dingley, republican, is re-elected to congress from this district by nearly 3,000 majority, running ahead of his ticket, and the other counties give large majorities for the prohibitory amendment, Lewiston being the only place to give a majority against it.

Returns up to midnight indicate a republican plurality of over 13,000. An estimate based on the returns received give Reed a majority of 6,000, in the first district, with Dingley, Millikin and Contelle re-elected in the second, third and fourth districts, respectively, the latter by an increased majority. The republicans claim 16,000 plurality for Robie. The democrats concede 12,000. All the republican congressmen re-elected, and the state legislature is strongly republican.

THE PROHIBITION AMENDMENT CARRIED.

Secretary Munson, of the state temperance alliance, claims that the prohibition amendment will have 5,000 majority in the state.

One hundred and eighty towns give Robie 47,375; Redman, 34,753; scattering, 1,939; republican plurality and gain over 1880, 12,623. The same towns in 1882 gave Robie 34,431; Plaisted, 36,834; scattering 1,077; plurality 6,597; a gain over 1882 of 6,026. This indicates 17,000 plurality. Thirty-six towns in the first district place Reed about 500 ahead of Cleaves.

Secretary Morrison, of the temperance alliance, reports returns of the vote on the prohibition amendment received from 200 towns, giving "yes" 74,500, "no" 20,595, showing it was carried by 53,905 majority at least. Probably it will exceed 60,000.

THE FINAL CAST UP.

Two hundred and sixty-seven towns give Robie 61,318; Redman, 4,584; scattering, 2,418; plurality, 16,254. The same towns in 1882 gave Robie 56,195: Plaisted 47,510; scattering 1,464, plurality 8,685. The towns to hear from gave Robie 16,286 and Plaisted 16,411. Robie will have over 16,000 plurality in a total vote of about 140,000. The vote of 1880 gave a total plurality of 169,900, so that the gain this year will be 16,000 on the gubernatorial vote of 1880. The presidential vote that year gained 9,000 on the gubernatorial vote, and probably will gain in November considerably on this. All four republican congressmen are elected, and the legislature will be overwhelmingly republican.

A SPEECH BY MR. BLAINE.

To-night the republicans of Augusta held a great jubilee over the result of the election. Returns were received at Meonian hall and speeches were made by citizens and visitors. At 9 o'clock a procession formed in Water street and marched to the residence of Mr. Blaine, cheering all along the line. Arriving in front of Blaine's residence the band played and the great crowd cheered for Blaine. In response Mr. Blaine advanced to the entrance of his house amid a storm of cheers, and addressed the assembled people as follows:

Fellow citizens and Old Friends: The republicans of Maine may well congratulate themselves on the magnificent victory which they have won. Four years ago this evening we were overwhelmed and humiliated by the loss of the state. We rejoice now over an unparalleled triumph, which is registered by the choice of both branches of the legislature, by the election of all the representatives in congress, of all the county officers in every county in the state, except one, and by a popular majority for Governor Robie of perhaps 15,000 votes. The cause of this democratic overthrow, gentlemen, is known to us all. Our canvass has been conducted on one great issue; our papers have kept that constantly before the people; every speaker from every platform has enunciated, defended, enforced it—it is the issue of protection to American labor. It has been almost the only question discussed in our canvass, and the people have responded nobly. They understand the subject fully. They know the details of the Morrison tariff bill, and they read therein the precise results which would follow if our opponents should obtain control of the national government. They see and they know, that the Morrison bill enacted into a law would seriously cripple, if not destroy, the leading industrial interests of Maine; that it would reduce the wages of every laboring man, and stop every new manufacturing enterprise in the state. Seeing this the people of Maine have protested against the enactment of so disastrous a measure, and have set the seal of disapprobation upon a democratic party that supports it. Many democrats in Maine who have never before waivered in their allegiance to the party, have ranged themselves to-day on the side protection to American industry by voting the full republican ticket. Their leaders could not hold them. Party discipline is powerless against the convictions of men. The issue on the temperance amendment to the constitution has been very properly and very rigidly separated from the political contest of the state to-day. Many democrats have voted for it and some republicans have voted against it. The republican party, by the desire of the leading temperance men, took no action as a party on the amendment. For myself, I decided not to vote at all on the question. I took this position because I am chosen by the republican party as the representative of national issues, and by no act of mine shall any question be obtruded upon the national campaign, which belongs properly to the domain of state politics.

Following Blaine, Senator Collum, of Illinois, and General J. L. Swift, of Delaware, delivered addresses.

TAMMANY'S BIG TALK.

JOHN KELLY ANNOUNCES THAT HE WILL SUPPORT CLEVELAND.

The Meeting of the Tammany General Committee Last Night—A Bitter Speech by Ex-Senator Grady Against Cleveland—The Action of Tammany to be Determined—Etc.

NEW YORK, September 8.—The Tammany hall committee on organization met tonight, John Kelly presided. The front steps of and the entrance to the hall were blocked by people long before 8 o'clock. The first business of the meeting was the reports of the district representatives. All reported that voters were ready to stand by the decision of the organization, whatever that might be. Then General Spinola offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, that it be referred to a committee of one from each assembly district (to which the chairman of this committee be added) to prepare an address and resolutions to be presented to the general committee for its consideration at a meeting to be held on Friday next, and that such address and resolutions shall explain and define the position of this organization towards the democracy of the state and the nation upon the political questions now before the country, as well as upon the action and results of the late Chicago convention, and that all motions and resolutions in any way alluding to the action of said convention, or its candidates, shall be referred to said committee without debate.

The resolutions were received with applause. Maurice F. Holahan, clerk of the board of aldermen, seconded them. He maintained that Cleveland could not be elected without Tammany's support. He said that Tammany had opposed Cleveland's nomination, and so had the working men and the anti monopolists. Tammany had gone to Chicago believing that the democratic party wanted a man of sterling honesty and a man whose statesmanship as a leader would give him supremacy as a leader. Tammany hall is not ashamed of its position. It is folly for the democrats to put much dependence in republican disaffections. Experience had shown that the disaffection amounted to very little on the morning of election day. Still Mr. Holahan favored the indorsement of the candidates. After denouncing "the Schurzes and the Curtises of the campaign," he made an appeal for the passage of the resolutions.

GRADY MAKES A SPEECH.

Speeches were also made by Assemblymen Rusch and Colonel J. B. Haskin. At this point there were loud cries for ex-Senator Grady. Mr. Grady arose and was cheered. He said:

I rise principally for the purpose of saying to you that I have taken no side in support or against any candidate, nor will I take sides, until Tammany hall, in its meeting of the general committee, has spoken. [Applause.] I am involved in no deal, nor am I engaged in transferring any vote other than my own. I never was in the market in a political campaign, and I don't propose to go in now. I shall take the side on this subject of the candidate, as my notions of honesty, uncompromising, fearless manhood and sterling, unadulterated democracy dictate and maintain. As I understand it, the resolution before the committee calls for the appointment of a sub-committee to declare Tammany's position. When that declaration is made I shall try to show that those who masqueraded to-day under the name of democrats have proved themselves to be the enemies of 5,000,000 men who make up the party. I have no desire to dictate here. I have opposed those who have abused the confidence and esteem and the faithful services of Tammany hall, and have gained destruction for themselves. I will give the benefit to the general committee of the reasons that actuate my course. I will follow to the far end wherever it may lead the course I have begun, because I began it for conscience sake alone. If there be a man who forgive enemies, I am one who follows the enemy through thick and thin, returning fire for fire, until one or the other goes down. I have no personal grievance with Governor Cleveland. The elevation of the so-called democratic candidate to the presidency would be the greatest blight that ever befell the party, for his nomination was the result of the acts of schemers, railroad presidents, contractors, standard oil men and the [illegible]est merchants are against it. I shall speak from the records, and I will ask to be ostracised from all decent society if I cannot point to corruption stalking straight to the door of the executive mansion, and knocking at the door and coming out of the door with all that corruption sought at the expense of the people. If I can prove that bribes that were known to fail in the assembly of 1883, were placed so near Cleveland that if he does not have the money he can get it any time; if I cannot prove that I am not what I profess to be.

Grady was frequently interrupted by applause.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted, and a committee composed of the district leaders was appointed, and the meeting adjourned.

WHAT THE OTHER LEADERS SAY.

The full committee of 360 members was present. After the meeting Colonel E. T. Wood said:

"When the bell rings they all know where the clapper hangs. We are going to take off our coats for Cleveland."

Referring to all of ex-Senator Grady's remarks Register Reilly said: "They ought not to have been allowed, but it makes no difference. We shall support Cleveland."

General Spinola said: "I don't think what Grady said will make any difference. I think we will indorse Cleveland."

Ex-County Clerk Gumbleton said: "Everyone has a right to speak his mind here. I think we will indorse the Chicago nominations."

Police Justice Gorman: "I am in favor of indorsing Cleveland. There is nothing else to be done."

TAMMANY FOR CLEVELAND.

John Kell'y Speech in Which He Announces for Cleveland and Hendricks.

NEW YORK, September 8.—The meeting of the Tammany authorities on Saturday night has caused much comment here, and the general impression is that it will fall into line for Cleveland and Hendricks.

The following extract from the report of the meeting, in the New York Sun, is received with much surprise as well as pleasure by democrats, as that paper is making a vigorous campaign against Cleveland. The Sun says:

After all the leaders had spoken, Mr. Kelly was asked to give his views. He spoke at some length. He referred to Tammany's recognition by the last state convention and to the proceedings of the national convention. He thought that all differences should be forgotten, and that Tammany should support the regular democratic ticket. "Tammany hall has always been, is now and always will be a democratic organization," he said, "and as such must indorse the nomination of the democratic convention. This must be done not only as a matter of policy, but because we are democrats and should be consistent with our record. This support is meant in good faith," he added. "Tammany always supports its candidates honestly, and will go to the polls and vote for Cleveland and Hendricks."

No formal vote was taken, but the opinion was unanimous after Mr. Kelly's speech that the organization should support the democratic ticket.

The committee on organization will meet tomorrow evening and appoint a committee to prepare resolutions indorsing Cleveland and Hendricks. Those resolutions will be presented to the Tammany general committee on Friday evening next.

The New York Tribune, Blaine's New York organ, says of the meeting:

At the consultation last evening each leader was requested to give his opinion of the outlook in his district, and did so at considerable length. The outcome of it all was practically that the organization should "indorse" the democratic ticket nominated at Chicago.

Conkling on Cleveland.

NEW YORK, September 8.—Mr. Conkling is reported to have said substantially to a personal friend: "If Cleveland was a good enough man for Mr. Blaine's friends to make governor of New York, perhaps some republicans may think he is a good man to make president."

Cotton Mills Closed.

WILMINGTON, Del., September 8.—Jas. Riddles Sons & Co.'s cotton mill, near this city, has closed indefinitely on account of a strike of their weavers.

BY THE FLAMES.

A Disastrous Fire in Cleveland—The Fire Record Elsewhere.

CLEVELAND, O., September 8.—A great conflagration raged here on the flats yesterday. The entire fire department was in service, and telegrams were sent to Akron, Youngstown, Painesville, Erie, Sandusky and Toledo for assisance. The origin of the fire is unknown. Incediarism is suspected by some, but the most probable theory is that some sparks from a tug boat set fire early in the evening to a pile of shavings from which the flames spread until Wood's ferry and the company's extensive lumber yard was ablaze. The fire continued to spread, defying all the efforts of the firemen. The lumber yards of Patton, Bird & Co., and C. B. King, and the Variety iron works were also consumed.

At 10 o'clock the fire threated to become still more extensive. About ten acres of frame buildings and lumber yards were aflame at one time, and large clouds of smoke, thickly studded with blazing cinders, were blown for miles by the changing wind, causing intense apprehension that fires would be kindled in every direction and a large portion of the city be laid waste. At 1 a. m. the fire seemed practically under control. Relief engines arrived from Akron and Erie and others are expected. The entire militia of the city is ordered in readiness, if necessary, to do police duty. No serious accidents are yet reported. Hank & Davidson loss $50,000, both of their planing mills being destroyed. Hubbell & Westover's lumber yard is still burning; loss, $40,000. King & Co's lumber yard is destroyed; loss. $100,000, and the Variety iron works' loss has not been ascertained; Casson Stanley's candle factory, loss about $10,000; Potter, Birdsall & Co.'s lumber yard, loss $150,000; Howell & Co.'s sheds burned, loss not given and about fifty freight cars belonging to different roads and which were standing in the woods. Perry & Co.'s yards were burned; Geynan & Son's machine shop was destroyed; loss $3,000. The fire extended along the river from Scranton avenue to the Bee Line tracks and back to the bonded warehouse. Everything within that district is consumed. The fire has now crossed the Bee Line track, and it is eating up the lumber yards of Hubbell & Westover and Caywood & Hutchison. At 2 a. m. the aggregate loss is estimated at from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000. It is impossible to give the individual figures tonight. Woods, Terry & Co. had no insurance. Their policies lately ran out. King & Co. had $20,000, and Potter, Birdsall & Co. $57,000 insurance.

THE SCENE PRESENTED.

The scene of conflagration now presents a desolate appearance. The fire covered an area extending from Scanna avenue and the Bee line track, on the east and west, and from the river to Grand street north and south. It embraced a triangle, the base of which runs from east to west, a distance of 1,100 feet, the two sides extending southerly, and nearly meeting a distance of 1,300 feet. The ruins are still smoking and smouldering, and eight steam fire engines are throwing water on them. The losses and insurances are as follows as nearly as they can at this moment be learned:

Woods, Perry & Co., loss $675,000; insurance $300,000.

C. G. King & Co., loss $65,000; insurance $25,000.

Potter, Birdsale & Co., loss $125,000; insurance $57,000.

The Variety iron works, loss $40,000; insurance $26,000.

Eynon & Son, loss $5,000; insurance $3,000.

Hubbell & Westover, loss $10,000; covered by insurance.

Hanse & Davidson, loss $60,000; insurance $42,000.

Sherman, Williams & Co., loss $2,000; covered by insurance.

G. C. Stanley, loss $12,000; covered by insurance.

The Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolos railroad company, loss $25,000; insurance unknown.

The New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio railroad company, loss $10,000; covered by insurance.

Howell's coal company, loss $5,000; covered by insurance.

A New York Flame.

NEW YORK, September 8.—A fire broke out yesterday morning in the apartment house owned by R. Stuyvesant, 144 East 18th street. The smoke and flames aroused the occupants, and they made a hasty exit into the adjoining house. The fire broke out in the air shaft, supposed from a light thrown carelessly there, and shot up the shaft to the roof. Eight families residing in the house escaped unharmed. Among the occupants were Mrs. General Custer and Miss Gilder, editress of the Critic. The latter lived on the top floor with her mother, who is 70 years old. She carried the latter over the roof of the burning building to that adjoining, thence to the street. The fire caused a damage of about $1,500.

Fire Near Pensacola.

PENSACOLA, Fla., September 8.—The Molino lumber mills, twenty-two miles from Pensacola, were burned at 1 a. m. They belonged to the estate of D. F. Sullivan, except one-quarter, which was willed by Sullivan to M.L. Davis. The latter had $10,000, insurance, but there was none on the other portion. The loss is about $100,000. The L. & N. railroad furnished a special train to carry a steam fire engine to save the millions of feet of lumber stacked in the yard.

Fire in Richmond.

RICHMOND, Va., September 8.—A fire yesterday afternoon destroyed J. C. Smith's ice company building, with 20,000 tons of ice; Henry Metsger's cooper shops, and a large quantity of wood and coal in Charles H. Page's yard. The total loss is estimated at $30,000.

An Explosion of Naptha.

NEW YORK, September 8.—The residents of Vernon avenue, and Tenth street, Hunter's point, were startled by an explosion about eleven o'clock last night. It was caused by a flow of naptha from the Standard company's works into the street sewer. The head of the main hole was blown fifty feet into the air and fell on the roof of a passing street car, crushing through and seriously injuring the daughter of Alderman Morris, of Astonia. Andrew Henderson took a lamp and went into his cellar to ascertain the cause of the explosion. As he reached the bottom of the stairs the naptha ignited from the lamp and he was horrible burned about the head.

Resigned His Office.

COLUMBIA, S. C., September 8.—[Special.]—Mr. John P. Thomas, Jr., for several years past the governor's private secretary, has resigned his position, and will henceforth devote himself to the practice of law. He is a young man of sterling qualities, and a successful career in his chosen profession awaits him. His successor has not yet been named.

The Case in Chattooga.

ROME, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—Advices received from Summerville to-night state that the jury in the case of the state vs. Davis have thus far failed to agree. It will be remembered that Davis, a nineteen-year-old boy, was charged with killing young Foster, twelve years old, near Trion factory a few months ago. The case was given to the jury Thursday evening. It is reported here that the jury stands eleven for conviction and one for acquital.

A Fool's Identity Disclosed.

WASHINGTON, September 8.—It was not known here until to-day that the man Brown, who sent the idiotic invitation to the late Lot M. Morrill, of Maine, to which Mr. Morrill's widow so indignantly replied, is actually the chairman of the Ohio republican state central committee. Republicans here could not believe it possible at first, but, convinced now, are swearing at the fool vigorously.

CUT HIS THROAT.

NEW BRUNSWICK, NEW JERSEY, WILD WITH EXCITEMENT.

A Bank, Short of a Million Dollars, Brings About the Suicide of the Cashier and the President—Two of the Directors Nearly Dead Terrible Scenes Witnessed on the Street.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., September 8.—President Mahlon Runyan cut his throat in the water closet of the National bank with a small knife this morning. He was implicated in the thievery with Cashier Hill. There is great excitement here. The excitement over the double suicide has become intense. The statement furnished by these officials in June of the current year showed the paid up capital to be $250,000; surplus $125,000, and undivided profits $78,180. There has been nothing in the public history of the bank since that date to cause any uneasiness to the stockholders. The suicide of President Runyan, while strengthening a testimony of giant frauds in the management, caused undoubted astonishment to the public.

ASTOUNDING DEVELOPMENTS MADE.

Bank Examiner Shelly has discovered a deficit of over $1,000,000 in surplus cash and securities. The town is wild. Men rush frantically to the doors of the National bank only to be told that the business of the institution is suspended for the present. Ira Voorhees' estate is partially ruined. Cashier Hill was left as the custodian of this estate of bonds and securities. He made away with them all. Over $79,000 was taken here. Of G. B. Addrian's estate over $30,000 is gone. Mahlon Runyan, who committed suicide, had $60,000 in government bonds. He had negotiated for the sale of these, and consummated some three days before his death. Runyan knew nothing of Hill's doings, trusting him implicitly. The crash in Wall street, in May last, took the bulk of Hill's stealings. Runyan, although quite popular, was ignorant of the business He was a willing tool in the hands of the designing cashier, who had the run of the institution.

PRESIDENT RUNYAN'S ARRIVAL.

At 9:45 a. m. President Runyan drove up to the bank in his carriage. He was accompanied by his two daughters.

"Good-bye, papa," said Julia, the eldest, reaching out of the carriage, as Mr. Runyan descended to the pavement.

"I hope all will be well. If you do not see me before night," he responded, "tell mama I will stick to the bank."

Twenty minutes later he sent to Chief Gerald, who was in charge of the bank, for a copy of the New York Times, in which the story was told of his complicity in the bank's downfall. Securing the paper he went into the room occupied by the organizing directors, and began to read. A deathly pallor spread over his face, and he exclaimed:

"My God, what will my children do?"

Passing a handkerchief over his brow he threw the paper into the lap of Director Stoddard, and, excusing himself, went into the toilet room of the bank.

THE FATAL WOUNDS INFLICTED.

A moment later the sound of a fall was heard. The directors rushed to the closet and discovered Runyan on the floor. Blood was oozing from the gaping wound in his throat. Determined in suiciding, he had cut his wrists deeply, the blood spurting against the wall and ceiling. The thousands of people outside were horrified. "Shall we raid the bank?" was the question which agonized the depositors. The farmers from the country joined the throng and shouted for their money. Thirty police flanked the street, and with difficulty quelled the rising disturbance. At 1:20 one of the directors, Johnson Letson, was reported dead. Investigation revealed the fact that he had become exhausted on account o the strain on his nerves. He was a heavy stockholder, and had deposited trust funds. Charley Davis, clerk of the bank, who had been reported dead, was found alive at 1:45 p. m.

A MAN WHO SAW THE DANGER AHEAD.

Martin A. Howell, who withdrew as director eight years ago said: "I saw it coming. Charley Hill was too liberal. The republican party went to him as a banker for funds. He doubtless took back the surplus to aid friends. Knowing the condition of affairs I quietly withdrew."

"Why did you not let the public know your suspicions?"

"I was advised not to do so."

"By whom?"

"By the directors."

The effect on the town is crushing. The wildest excitement prevails. The streets are thronged with country depositors. Fears of a raid on the bank are increasing. One hundred special policemen have been sworn in by the mayor to surround the bank property.

The coroner's jury, in the case of Mahlon Runyan's death, returned a verdict of wilful suicide.

AMAZED AND HORRIFIED.

At 4 o'clock, inside the bank, Acting Cashier Campbell was seen.

"What do you know?" the reporter asked.

"I am amazed and horrified over the affair. My heart's blood might have been spilt for Charley, but when I see what is about to occur, the fall of the whole institution, my heart bleed."

"Give me something tangible, will you?"

"Hill was never my confident, although I undertook some of his greatest missions."

"Explain," said the reporter.

"As messenger to and from Hall, Garten & Co., New York. I have taken money for investment to them. I don't know the result. I have had fears of the present result for six months, but kept my mouth closed."

"Why?"

"Because I feared expulsion by the directors."

"Did you think Hill crooked?"

"Perhaps," hesitating, "I might as well make an open breast of the whole affair. Hill was too much beset by politicians. He evidently ruined himself by rendering aid to the republican party, as well as in Wall street and the races."

"What else?"

"Some time since he wanted a newspaper. He put the money in the hands of Tindall & Hose to start the Evening Star, a republican paper, to denounce the management of affairs by the democrats. Hose skipped the city, owing to a libel suit. The paper went up, and with it Hill's future prospects of popularity.

FALLS DEAD IN A FAINT.

Joseph Fisher, senior custodian of Voorhees and Tate, refused to divulge why he had not signed the release proffered by Hill when the sale of the bonds might have effected it.

"No, sir," he said, "I am not such a rascal as to take landed estate from the Voorhees boys, and you will find me always on the side of the weak."

"Was Hill in your cofidence?"

"No, no!"—hesitatingly.

"What do you know about this trouble?"

"The question startled him, and he fell to the pavement in a faint. He was picked up and carried home by the police.

The scene at the bank beggars description. "My God!" exclaimed Director Stoddard, "the whole city will go under. The city debt is now nearly $20,000,000, and the bank holds its paper. The savings banks have gone under, and we have their capital."

"Was Mahlon Runyan about to be arrested?"

"So I have heard."

"What for?"

"Please don't ask me; I am nearly dead myself."

FACTS FROM AFAR.

The March of the Cholera—Other Foreign News.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The cholera is undiminished. Religious service has been organized in Naples by principal inhabitents regardless of party. It is working well. It is proposed to establish an extensive camp for the poor outside the city limits. King Humbert, Prince Amadeo and Prime Minister Depactes will arrive in Naples this afternoon.

The Italian quarantine on the Swiss and Austrian frontiers has been abolished.

All is quiet in this city now. Fully a hundred persons were wounded in the conflict between the clericals and anti-clericals. Several persons were wounded seriously but nobody was killed. As the clericals who came from the provinces to take part in the procession were returning to their homes last night they were assaulted by members of the opposite party at many of the provincial railway stations. A large mob at Antwerp to-day hooted and yelled as the clericals arrived. The gens d'armes charged repeatedly on the crowd and wounded several persons before they succeeded in dispelling it.

The cholera epedemic has had the effect of paralyzing trade in Naples. Ten thousand fishermen and a large number of workmen are out of employment, and most kinds of business at a standstill. The municipal authorities of Majone, a town not far from Solerna, have sent a present of 5,000 lemons for the use of the cholera sufferers in Naples. This is no insignificant gift, as lemons now cost a half a franc apiece here.

There was one death from cholera at Toulon last night, four at La Seyne, two at Vins, two at Perpignon and three at Treyerie Audille.

The Franco-Chinese War.

LONDON, September 8.—Concerning the war the Foochow correspondent of the Times telegraphs, under this date: The French gunboat, Lutia, visited Fomorin, on the coast of Formarsdy on the 4th instant, and found the entrance of the harbor blocked. The English gunboat Zephyr was fired upon yesterday from the Kinpai forts. An officer and a sailor were wounded. The Zephyr was mistaken for a French vessel of similar appearance The British admiral demanded an explation, which was promptly rendered, accompanied with pronounced regrets and apologies.

The Pall Mall Gazete this afternoon, has the following: The Chinese report that damage due to the forts and arsenal on Min river by Admiral Courbet was trifling The French landed and destroyed only three guns at the Mingan forts, and did not land at all at Kinpai. The arsenal was not damaged, and no war material or stores were destroyed. There was no fire and no explosion. Work at the arsenal is now proceeding as usual. The naval loss was serious, but after all only two fighting vessels were injured.

The Pall Mall Gazette says the Chinese government has made a declaration of war in the form of a manifesto from the emperor to the people. The emperor declares that he regards the action as constituting a state of war, and he calls upon his subjects to aid in repelling the foe.

Serious Religious Riot at Brussels.

BRUSSELS, September 8.—The clericals from all the provinces to the number of many thousands, paraded the streets here amid the vehement hisses and howling of dense crowds of lookers-on. The latter soon after the din commenced, became more demonstrative and blocked the procession and tore down the banners. Fierce struggles ensued, and many persons, including several policemen, were injured. The police were powerless to stop the disorder, and the gen d'arms and civil guards were called out and attempted to reorganize the procession. Their efforts were futile, however, and the confusion became general. The mob stopped the procession at various places, and the clericals finding themselves unable to advance, slowly dispersed. The melee gradually subsided, but great excitement prevailed the whole of the evening and 185 arrests were made. It is reported that three of the injured have since died. Troops are stationed at various places to preserve order.

The Proposed Relief of Gordon.

LONDON, September 8.—The government has received official reports from Nubar Pasha, the Egyptian foreign minister; General Stephenson and General Sir Evelyn Wood, urging the reconsideration of the plans for the Nile expedition. Both General Stephenson and Wood maintain that the boat service and commissariat arrangements are entirely insufficient for the needs of the expedition, and they recommend that the government limit the expedition to a small force, whose duties shall be to open communication with General Gordon at Khartoum. The reports have been again referred to General Wolsley. It is reported that the Cairo expedition will be abandoned for one from Suakim to Khartoum, by the Berber route.

Drinking a Boy's Blood.

LONDON, September 8.—The crew of the Mignonette captured a turtle on the tenth day after the sinking of the yatcht on the 18th of June, having been seven days without food and five without water. They discussed the question of casting lots to see which should die so that the lives of the others might be prolonged, but were unable to agree. Next day it was determined to kill the boy Parker, when Captain Dudley opened his jugular vein with a penknife and he died instantly. The survivors, the captain and two seamen drank the murdered boy's blood and sustained life until rescued by Moctezuma on July 5th. The reason assigned for determining upon the boy's death is that he suffered most from thirst and was unmarried. When rescued the men looked like skeletons. They will be charged with murder.

Arbitrary Conduct of Spanish Officers.

MADRID, September 8.—An American clergyman, who was making a tour through the peninsula accompanied by his daughters, arrived some days ago at San Sebastian, a watering place on the northern coast of Spain, not far from the French frontier, and put up at the hotel Inglese. While there the gentleman died of heart disease. Although he was attended by a Spanish physician, and although the post mortem examination showed conclusively that the death was caused by heart disease, yet the authorities ordered that all the furniture in the room which he occupied should be burned together with all his effects. The daughters were allowed to take nothing belonging to their father except a few letters. They are indignant at the cruelty to which they were subjected.

A Fight With Three Burglars.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., September 8.—When the evening train on the Derby railroad stopped at West Haven to-night three men were found riding on the trucks. The train hands dislodged them and a fight ensued. The tramps drew revolvers and ran the train to Derby, where two were arrested and one escaped. Some of the passengers narrowly escaped being struck by the flying bullets. The police regard the men as professional burglars, and suppose their intention was to rob the passengers.

The Pierce Memorial in Rome.

ROME, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—At the city hall yesterday morning, Rev. J. W. Lee, of the Methodist church, preached a sermon on the life and character of the late Bishop Pierce. He held the bishop up as a man of whom all the churches might well feel proud.

At the Baptist church, last night, Rev. Dr. Headden preached a strong sermon to young men. An immense congregation was present. Revival meetings will continue mornings and evenings during the present week.

GEORGIA GOSSIP.

SHORT TALK WITH THE SCRIBES OF THE COUNTY PRESS.

An Old Georgian Brings in Five Deer—Capture of a Murderer—Sickness in Baker County—The Killing of a Large Rattlesnake—Other Interesting State News.

Mr. J. N. Story, of Worth, a few weeks ago while hunting, came upon five large deer in a bunch, and brought down three with two shots from his Winchester. Mr. Story is nearly sixty years old.

Three bodies were awaiting burial at the same time at the graveyard at Pentecost church, Jefferson, on last Monday morning. One was Mr. George Chandler's wife, who died of fever the day before, and the other two were Ben Collier's children.

Miss Nancy E. Pirkle, daughter of Rev. W. J Pirkle, of Forsyth county, four weeks ago, being in her usual health, suddenly told her mother that she had been impressed for several days with the conviction that she would die soon, and that if she did, death would have no terrors for her, as she was ready for the summons. At the time, she was in robust health, without an ache or pain. Some two or three days after this she was stricken down with a severe attack of congestion of the brain, from which she rallied in ten days only to be attacked with malarial fever, from which she died at the end of seventeen days of extreme suffering. She was nearly twenty-one years old.

"Slippery Dick Whiteley's" wife will return to Georgia to live.

Mr. Bill Mason, now on a visit to Athens, wears a scarf pin made of a plain white flint rock, highly polished, that contains a drop of clear water in the center. The stone will bring $300. It was found by some children in Upson county. The pin has been inspected by Mr. Larry Gantt, who is a connoisseur in diamonds and things.

Mrs. Nancy Culberson, of Upson county, aged 75, died in Douglas, Texas, last week.

The Courier says that Leary, with the exception of Albany, has shipped more cotton this season than any point in southwest Georgia. Four hundred bales have been shipped from Leary already.

Joe Gipson, colored, alias James Black, was arrested at Callahan recently for the murder of a negro in Hampton, South Carolina, some time since, by shooting his victim through a crack in his house, passed through Waycross last Wednesday en route to the place of murder, in charge of Mr. W. F. DuBose, who claims Gipson to be a bad negro.

Dawson Appeal: Dr. Tom Overby, of Stewart county, spent a few days in our city during the past week the guest of Professor McNulty. He was formerly a student of the professor's, was rusticating in the wilds of Florida during last winter, has spent the summer at home, but soon expects to return to Florida for another winter's sojourn. He told us that he put some German carp in his father's mill pond three years ago. They were six weeks old when put in, and last week he caught one that weighs eighteen pounds.

A great deal of sickness is reported in Baker county.

Two new postoffices have been established in Baker county recently. Dewsville, named after Captain W. W. Dews, 3 miles from Milford at McClair's turpentine farm, and Mimmsville, at Captain Bob Mimms' store near Hoggard's mill.

Columbus Enquirer: Ed. Taylor, a negro boy who is serving thirty days on the chain gang, escaped yesterday from the jail lot by the assistance of other prisoners who helped him over the fence. He went home, but instead of receiving a cordial welcome, he was taken in custody by his mother, who, after making him don himself in clean clothes, returned him to the proper authorities. The old woman didn't believe in swindling the city out of its just dues.

Waycross Headlight: Allen Handy, colored, a hand on the railroad near here, recently killed a rattlesnake that weighed eight pounds, and was five feet and two inches in length, with twenty rattles and a button.

Lazarus Harris, colored, charged with the willful murder of Dock Wylly, colored, was apprehended at Hackton, on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, and delivered to the jailer of McIntosh county on Wednesday morning last by Mr. G. W. Robbins, he receiving a reward of twenty-five dollars for the delivery of the prisoner in Darien. Harris killed Wylly on the night of the 9th of August at Gouldsville, about a mile from Darien. After the murder Harris made his escape through the able assistance of William Green, a colored man, who is noted for this kind of rascality, and who was committed as accessory last week. After being arrested, Lazarus told Mr. Robins, his captor, that he killed Wylly and had but one time to die and that time, he thought had arrived. Harris is now in jail where he will remain until the next term of the McIntosh superior court, which convenes on the 24th day of November.

Carnesville Register: The citizens of Clarkesville have filed a bill of injunction against R. N. Groves, the ordinary of Habersham county and it has been sanctioned by Judge Estes, to stop his levying and collecting a tax for the purpose of building a $7,000 jail. The record shows that the county is almost $5,000 in debt now, and to add the expenses of building a jail would force the county to raise by taxation almost $12,000, making the state and county assessment about 1.70 on the hundred. If our authorities were to make such an assessment they would be literally covered with injunctions. Seventy-five cents per hundred is thought to be high here.

Monroe female college opened with seventy scholars.

PRESS AND PEOPLE.

Larry Gantt is the typical Georgia editor, blunt and outspoken. He gives vent to his opinions and cherishes no secret animosities, not even against a delinquent subscriber. He has a nose for news, which he uses with discretion as well as industry—never letting anything slip his observation. Such men are, however, to journalism, and the Banner is a safe flag to follow.

Bishop Holland Nimmons McTyeire is the senior member of the Episcopal bench of the M. E. church south, since the death of Bishop George F. Pierce.

Colonel R. H. Moore, the Georgia gold mine developer, is quite ill.

The Waycross Headlight recalls the fact that September is the month when persimmons get ripe, and 'possums ripen and fall off, and the coon dog is in demand.

Captain W. H. McPharl, of Worth, and Captain R. R. Jenkins, of Mitchell, are both seriously ill.

Kit Warren's real name is said to be John Smith. He was swapped in infancy, and no "rue back" could ever be effected.

Professor W. K. Pilsbury has abandoned Georgia journalism in order to add his name to the list in Alabama. He is now on the staff of the Eufaula Times.

Captain John Brown, of Doboy, has gone on a visit to Ireland, where he intends to add richness to his brogue.

Editor Grubb, of the Darien Gazette, announces, editorily, that he has been bored by the loafers of that place long enough, and intends to take no more of it.

Bishop Gross, of Georgia, preached to a large congregation in Birmingham last Sunday.

The Griffin News of Sunday last comes to us enlarged to an eight-page form, and is gotten up in such a manner as would do credit to a much larger city than Griffin. It publishes a half-page cut of the Griffin cotton factory, with its full description, and commenting on the issue says:

Late in the week it was determined to get out an eight-page paper to-day. The engraving of the factory was already on hand, ready for use whenever required, but a great amount of writing and composition was necessary to fill out the extra pages. Yet with one writer and four compositors, without curtailing the usual amount of reading matter in a single issue, the large amount of reading in this edition was prepared and set up; and by working a little later than usual last night, every door yard in Griffin this morning contains a surprise for its owner in the shape of a double number of the News. If there is any paper in the land that can surpass this journalistic feat with the same resources, we should be glad to hear from it. We do not believe it can be done.

The End of Seventeen Year's Service

ACWORTH, September 8.—[Special.]—At the Baptist conference held at the Acworth church Saturday, Dr. S. G. Ryals, the pastor, informed the church he could not serve the church any longer, and Judge Sam Tumlin was called for the ensuing year. It is with many regrets Acworth gives up Dr. Ryals, who has served the church faithfully, ably and acceptably for seventeen years.

GEORGIA POLITICS.

Matters of Political Interest Which are Taking Place Through the State.

Hon. Seaborn Wright, of Floyd, declines an invitation to make an independent race for the legislature. Men of Mr. Wright's high standing are not reduced to the necessity of making independent runs.

The Barnesville Gazette says that Rev. W. H. Richardson, who is a candidate for the legislature, was asked by Mr. Mat Middlebrooks if, as a preacher he was not getting into bad company by going into politics. He said preachers, like other people, needed recreation and a relief from preaching.

Nine out of the fifty-three county delegates in Pike bolted the convention, and are trying to nurse an independent boom for somebody. Referring to their action, the Barnesville Gazette says:

Now there is no use of calling these bolters anything but independents. They must rule or they will leave the convention and call on the opponents of democracy for aid to elect their men. When this element could not elect in a primary election but nine out of fifty-three, do they not appear a little ridiculous when they put their thumbs in their vest sleeves and say we are true democrats.

At the county convention of Baker, held in Newton, Mr. J. W. Thayer was nominated by acclamation for the legislature.

The election for mayor and aldermen for the town of Dallas for the ensuing year was held last Wednesday, with the following result: For mayor—J. L. George. For aldermen—Thomas Griffin, M. A. Harris, W. E. Thompson, G. W. Lawrence, and T. A. Foote. There were two tickets in the field, and the contest quite spirited.

There was only one white member of the Dougherty county republican convention. Israel Lonon was nominated for the legislature. The following resolution was passed:

Whereas, On the night of the 24th ultimo the Albany Guards received orders from the governor of the state of Georgia to proceed at once to Dawson and assist the sheriff of Terrell county in the execution of George Jones, convicted of rape and sentenced to hang on the 25th ultimo; and whereas, a special train, while carrying said Guards and others, was thrown from the track by some person or persons, intending to kill or otherwise impede the progress of said Guards and others; and whereas, it seems that the public attributes this crime to colored people of this section; and, whereas, being connected with such a base crime will injure us as a race; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we condemn said crime as being the most brutal of any crime that has been committed in our state. We regard such person or persons as vile brutes that should not be allowed to live as citizens in any civilized country, and that we will do our duty towards bringing such person or persons to justice.

Hon. Ben E. Russel, of Bainbridge, in his race for the legislature, puts himself upon the following platform:

1. I am in favor of a law compelling equalization of tax assessments.
2. I am in favor of the state railroad commission, and believe that it should be sustained. A few great syndicates of capitalists, the combined wealth of which is greater than that of Georgia, own all of the railroad property in the state, and without the protecting arm of the railroad commission, they would become grinding monopolies, blighting the industries of our people.
3. In the last legislature I voted for the bill compelling railroads to pay their taxes to the tax collectors of the various counties in which their property was located. It passed the house but was killed in the senate. A bill to the same effect will come before the next legislature, and if I am a member I shall give the measure my most earnest support.
4. I am heartily in favor of a school of technology—a school where our children may not only be instructed in the science but the arts as well. A college from which the graduate emerges not only with an education, but with a useful trade.
5. I am in favor of the free education of the masses, and will support any good law making the largest appropriation, without being burdensome to the tax payers, or crippling to the state treasury.
6. The local prohibition issue in this county I consider settled by the appeal to the ballot box in April, 1883. It was fairly and squarely submitted to the people, after being fully and freely discussed upon the stump and through the press. The people recorded a verdict of over 800 majority against it, which I consider fatal.

Hon. Judson C. C. Clements, nominee for congress in the seventh district, in his letter of acceptance, says:

Words are inadequate to express the gratitude I feel for the continued confidence of the people implied in my unanimous nomination as the democratic candidate for congress in this district by this body of representative citizens. This expression of approval of my official action in the past, awakens a profound appreciation of the grand duties and responsibilities of this public trust, and should the action of your body be ratified by the people at the polls, I shall earnestly endeavor a faithful discharge of the same. In accepting the position assigned me, it is proper for me to reavow my adhearance to the great democratic principles as embodied in our national platform, and under the application of which in the past the people of this country have enjoyed the highest degree of happiness and prosperity. The people of this district who are devoted to these principles have cause for congratulation in the harmony that now prevails among them, despite the unfortunate difference of the past.

The legslature race in Oconee county is getting very hot and personal.

The First District Senatorship.

SAVANNAH, September 8.—[Special.]—Captain W. W. Gordon is being vigorously urged by his friends for senator for this district. Major Henry E. Smith of Bryan, is in the city, working up a sentiment for rotation, with a view of securing the nomination of senator for Bryan, or Effingham. He contends that the first is the only district in the state where rotation is not followed. The probabilities are, however, that Chatham will again name the man.

Death of Casper Herring.

LAGRANGE, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—Casper Herring is dead. Just twenty years of age, strong and vigorous, genial and loving, intelligent and handsome, of unsurpassed business qualifications, a pious, devoted Christian, leading in the young men's prayermeetings, no wonder his parents are heart-broken and the town wrapped in gloom. Lingering two weeks with typhoid fever, Dr. Ridley yesterday morning gave up his case as beyond all human skill, and at half past four in the afternoon his spirit took its flight. His funeral will be preached by Dr. Bruce this afternoon at the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Haygood on Prohibition.

COVINGTON, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—Salem campmeeting opened Friday night with a goodly number in attendance. On Sunday an unusually large crowd was present. At 11 a.m. Dr. A. G. Haygood preached a sermon on prohibitin. The doctor discussed the question in all its bearings—as it effects business, politics, morals, the home interests and religion. He clearly demonstrated that the law could prohibit as well as restrain the liquor traffic.

An Inhuman Step-Father.

SAVANNAH, September 8.—George Oliver, colored, was arrested to-day for the murder of his step-daughter, aged 14 years, her death having resulted from the vicious beating he had given her. The child's body presents a horrible spectacle.

Court in Banks County.

HOMER, Ga., September 8.—Our new jail is nearing completion, and when completed will be a good one.

Banks county superior court convenes the 15th instant. There are several cases on the docket.

Careless Boys.

SAVANNAH, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—Arthur Williams, a negro aged 11 years, with some boys was playing on a hand car on the Savannah Florida and Western railroad, near the city, when he was knocked from the car. The boys were unable to stop the crank, and the wheel passed over his right arm, causing compound fracture. The physicians decided that amputation was necessary.

The Story of the Rattle.

MARIETTA, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—I see in THE CONSTITUTION you mention the fact of the killing of a large rattlesnake at Olustee, Florida, which had twenty-one rattles. Will Cox, of this place, has thirty-four rattles and a button taken from one snake killed in Florida.

The Butler Campmeeting.

BUTLER, September 8.—[Special.]—Dr. J. S. Key passed through Butler to-day on his return from the funeral service of Bishop Pierce, to take charge of the campmeeting six miles from town. There are more people on hand to-day than ever known since the camp ground was instituted.

BOUNCING DEMOCRATS.

MADISON DAVIS TAKEN TO TASK BY THE ADMINISTRATION.

His Democratic Bondsmen Relieved From Anxiety and Negroes Subtituted in Their Place—The Democrats of His Office to be Given the Grand Go By—Other Matters.

ATHENS, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—A few weeks ago the republican party of Georgia served notice on Madison Davis, the colored postmaster at Athens, that he must get rid of his democratic bondsmen that have control of the patronage of the office, and substitute for them securities from his own party, or that he would be removed. The party demanded that the white assistants in the postffioce be removed, and their places supplied by negroes and republicans. Davis's friends, without any assistance from him, went to work and secured a bond signed by four well-known and wealthy negroes of Georgia, and he released his white securities, viz: Pope Barrow, R. L. Bloomfield, James M. Smith and R. L. Moss. The new bond has been accepted by the government. Beusse and Reynolds are the white democrats now in the office, and it is presumed that they will be shortly discharged and negro appointees substituted therefor. Davis has had one of his sons in the office for some time. Captain Beusse has charge of the financial department of the office, and is a most capable and worthy officer. Clerks will have to be imported to fill the vacancies, as there are no negroes in Athens competent.

A Singular Case of Insanity.

SAVANNAH, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—Winston Hunt, colored, several years employed by G. F. M. Hull, was taken sick about a week ago and yesterday was thought to be dying. He sent for his employer to bid him farewell. Hull, in company with Dr. Macfarland, went to the house. Hunt had been very weak, and his physician considered him sinking. While in the room Hunt was suddenly seized with insanity, sprang from his bed, assaulted Hull and Macfarland, striking both in the face. After great difficulty he was secured and began raving fearfully. His insanity increased and several men were required to keep him under control. He was removed to jail late last night. This afternoon he was very low and was not expected to live throughout the night. Dr. Macfarland reports it as a most singular case, as Hunt had not shown any symptoms of insanity during his sickness.

Court in Elbert County.

ELBERTON, September 8.—[Special.]—The superior court convenes here this morning, with Judge E. H. Pottle presiding, and Colonel J. A. Harley solicitor general. The business of the court will consume the whole week, there being a large number of minor criminal cases, but very few felonies. A seduction case promises to be sensational. The people are beginning to manifest considerable interest in the election of a judge for our circuit. Judge Pottle is decidedly the choice of a large majority of the people of Elbert, but is bitterly opposed by some. The grand jury for this term is an excellent one, and we look for some wise recommendations from them.

Murdered His Step-Daughter.

SAVANNAH, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—George Oliver, a mulatto, was arrested late last night charged with causing the death of Ella McCary, a 14-year old girl, his step-daughter. He was in a habit of brutally beating her with a strap. Sunday morning she died and the coroner was notified: he proceeded to the house three miles from the city on the Augusta road. He found the entire left leg and the back raw and swollen, presenting a horrible sight. At the inquest sufficient testimony was developed to convince the jury and the coroner that the death was caused by brutal treatment. Oliver was placed in jail to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of murder.

Rape in Rome.

ROME, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—Dick Marshall, colored, about nineteen years old, was today arrested charged with committing rape on a nine year old colored girl named Sarah Ellston. It is alleged that the crime was committed in a stable in this city on Saturday night. Marshall will have a preliminary hearing before Justice Walters to-morrow morning. There is considerable indignation and excitement among colored people regarding the affair.

A Savannah River Wreck.

SAVANNAH, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—The steamer Mary Fisher, which arrived from Augusta this morning, reports that the steamer Katie, bound for Savannah, ran on a snag, breaking three ugly holes in her bottom, about nine o'clock last night at Breks ferry. She had among her cargo 250 bales of cotton, 75 of which were thrown overboard to lighten her. The passengers and some freight was brought down by the Mary Fisher. The Katie is badly injured, but is expected down to-morrow

The New Professor.

CUTHBERT, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—Professor H. R. Willcox, late assistant to Professor H. C. White state, chemist, has arrived and accepted a professorship in the agricultural college of this city. Professor W. comes highly indorsed and no doubt will become at once an important and efficient adjunct in the success of the college. We think it likely that Professor Willcox will be put in charge of a laboratory and that practical chemistry will soon become a feature of our male college.

Baptist Ordination.

LAGRANGE, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—At a conference of the Baptist church yesterday, it was resolved to invite Drs. Tucker, Warren and McDonald to assist our local minister in the ordination of four deacons on the first Sabbath in October. The following are the deacons elect: Messrs. J. P. Thornton, Henry Bank, Jr., J. E. Toole and T. J. Harwell.

STATE SPECIALS CONDENSED.

All the churches of LaGrange will unite with the Methodists next Sabbath morning in the memorial services of Bishop Pierce.

The revival meeting is still in progress at the Baptist church in Elberton, and is largely attended.

The residence of Mr. S. H. Carmichael, near McDonough, was destroyed by fire Saturday night.

Mrs. Henry D. Willbanks died near Homer a few days ago.

A mad dog ran through the principal streets of LaGrange on Saturday. All gave him a wide berth, but was followed by the marshal on horseback and killed.

An interesting protracted meeting is being held at McDonough at the Baptist church. The minister in charge is assisted by the Rev. Dr. Hornady, of Atlanta.

The remains of Edwin Ake, son of Mr. M. O. B. Ake, of Cedartown, who died in Pennsylvagia last week, were brought there for interment.

A white woman from Madison county, comes to Athens, soliciting sewing and never returns the articles given her.

A hard rain fell at Tallulah falls Sunday afternoon. The river was quite muddy yesterday.

Mr. W. S. Holman, of Clarke county, says there are enough grown cotton bolls now matured in that section, to clear the crop of last year.

The title to Young's hotel property at Tallulah falls, will be tried before Judge E. S. Pottle at the next session of Rabun court, $30,000 are involved.

Or high or low, or rich or poor,
None would foul teeth or breath endure,
If they but knew how sure and swift
Was SOZODONT, that priceless gift,
In giving beauty, life and tone
To every charm the mouth can own.

TAX LEVY.

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONERS OF ROADS AND Revenues of Fulton County, August 11, 1884.—"It is ordered that there be collected by the tax collector of said county, or his successors in office, the following tax for county purposes, for the year 1884, to-wit: Eighteen cents for the expenses of the chaingang and for roads, bridges, etc; two cents for public buildings; four cents for the expenses of the superior court; two and one-half cents for the expenses of the city court; three cents for the fees of the jailor and all other expenses of the jail; one-half of one cent for fees of coroner and county physician; one and one-half cents for fees of officers, commissions of tax collector and receiver, and salaries of commissioners and their clerk; two and one-half cents for the support of the almshouse and for paupers; four cents for the payment of the courthouse bonds with interest thereon which falls due during the year; and two cents for any other lawful charge against the county, making a total of forty cents on the one hundred dollars, which is hereby levied for the year 1884."

A true extract from the minutes of the commissioners of roads and revenues.

OFFICE OF JACOBS' PHARMACY,
ATLANTA, June 13, 1884,

Six months ago we had no demand for B. B. B., but now our retail demand is such that we are forced to buy in gross lots. We attribute the rapid and enormous demand to the comparative size and price of B. B. B., being large bottles for $1.) and its positive merit. The fact of its containing Iodide of Potash renders it more valuable as a Blood Remedy. It sells well and gives our customers entire satisfaction. Our sales have increased 500 per cent within a few months.

JACOBS' PHARMACY, per Fred B. Palmer, M. D.

ATLANTA, June 12, 1884.

We have been handling B. B. B. only a few months, and take pleasure in saying it is superseding all other remedies. It sells well, gives our customers entire satisfaction, and we cheerfully recommend it in preference to any other Blood Purifier. ASHER & MOORE, Druggists,

ATLANTA, June 12, 1884.

It is our firm belief that B. B. B. is the best Blood Purifier on the market. We are selling four or five bottles of it to ONE of any other preparation of the kind. It has failed in no instance to give entire satisfaction. W. P. SMITH & Co., Druggists.

ATLANTA, June 12, 1884.

During the past few months I have given B. B. B. severe tests in the cure of Blood Diseases, and unhesitatingly pronounce it a safe, sure, harmless and speedy Blood Purifier, fully meriting the confidence of the public. My customers are delighted with its effects, and the demand has so wonderfully increased that I have been compelled to buy by the gross, as it is the BEST selling Blood Remedy I handle. I consider Iodide of Potash to be a hrmless yet valuable addition to B. B. B.

SCHUMANN'S PHARMACY,

Since I have begun handling the B. B. B., which is about 3 or 4 months, it grows so much in popularity and its sales increased so much, that I have to buy it in grost lots, as it sells quite rapidly.

Statement of T. L. Massenburg, Macon, Ga.

I have known much of the use of Swift's Specific and have seen many of the worst cases of Blood Taint and Blood Poison cured with it, after having tried all other sorts of treatment; in fact, I have never known it to fail when taken properly. I can cite the case of a young man who had been treated by the best physicians for Blood Poison, but all to no purpose; and as the time for his marriage was approaching, he was nearly distracted. He finally took Swift's Specific, and was cured as sound as a new dollar.

Another who had tried everything, and spent four months at the Hot Springs without benefit, was at last cured by this remedy. His case was like raising one from the dead. I could go on and tell you of a hundred cases from New York to the effect that the Louis ville and Nashville would shortly issue $5,000 000 in new six per cent bonds and an equ amount in five per cent preferred stock.

As to the rumor regarding the Central rail road's part in this business, it is said that th
Central will furnish $5,000,000 and assum control of the Louisville and Nashville lin from Montgomery to New Orleans and run it in the interest of the grea
Central system, which now ex tends from Montgomery through Eufaula and Macon to Savannah, to Atlanta and to other points. While this rumor will find many be lievers, it probably has little foundation in fact. The most valuable link in the Louis ville and Nashville system is that between Montgomery and New Orleans, and the Louis ville and Nashville people would never part with it without a determined struggle. The rumor may be founded on fact, however, and developments may be looked for. And there may be some connection between this and the report that General Manager Gabbett, of the Western road, will assume control of the Louisville and Nashville line from Montgom ery to New Orleans. At any rate, it is not impossible that we will have some lively rail road news in the future.

THE COMMISSIONER'S REPORT.

What the Last Recommendations of the Railroad Commission Meant.

There seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to the position which the commission ers held concerning the proposed amendment giving the right of appeal from their decisions.
The commissioners merely reaffirm what they recommended in their semi-annual report of 1881, namely: That the railroads and the peo ple should have a more easy mode of review of the action of the commission, but urged very strongly that such appeals be acted upon at once and that if no decision is reached within thirty days, the rulings of the commission go in effect and so stand until set aside by the courts.
The commissioners believe that this right of appeal has always existed and that if there was anything in the law of 1879, creating a railroad commission which denied the right of appeal to either party, first to the commissioners themselves, and then to the courts, the litigation already had in the Til ley case and also in the Georgia Railroad and Banking company suit, such unwise denial of that right would have been discovered. Their recommendation, therefore, is not to amend the law so as to give the right of appeal, but to make that appeal more easily attained and more readily

Statement of T. L. Massenburg, Macon, Ga.

I have known much of the use of Swift's Specific and have seen many of the worst cases of Blood Taint and Blood Poison cured with it, after having tried all other sorts of treatment; in fact, I have never known it to fail when taken properly. I can cite the case of a young man who had been treated by the best physicians for Blood Poison, but all to no purpose; and as the time for his marriage was approaching, he was nearly distracted. He finally took Swift's Specific, and was cured as sound as a new dollar.

Another who had tried everything, and spent four months at the Hot Springs without benefit, was at last cured by this remedy. His case was like raising one from the dead. I could go on and tell you of a hundred cases.

B. W. WRENN RESIGNS.

HE LEAVES THE STATE ROAD AFTER SIXTEEN YEARS' SERVICE.

A Good Reason for the Resignation—The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia People Offer a Larger Salary and a Better Field—Mr. Wrenn's Successor—Etc.

The resignation of Mr. B. W. Wrenn was the talk of the town yesterday afternoon.

For sixteen years Mr. Wrenn has been connected with the Western and Atlantic railroad in the responsible capacity of general passenger and ticket agent. In the discharge of his duties he has always been faithful, vigilant and untiring. His phenomenal industry, activity and never failing courtesy in the course of time made a deep impression upon the traveling public as well as upon the railroad men of the country at large. Naturally he became as prominent figure in his sphere of action, and counted hosts of friends from Maine to Texas.

THE CONSTITUTION'S scribe was informed yesterday morning that Mr. Wrenn's resignation had been accepted, and calling at his office found him immersed in business as usual. Beyond the bare statement that he had resigned and would hereafter fill the position of general passenger and ticket agent of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, Mr. Wrenn had little to say. The reporter, however, talked with other well posted parties and got at the bottom facts.

It seems that the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, with that enterprise for which it is noted, made Mr. Wrenn an offer that was not to be declined. A larger salary than he is now receiving was offered, and then the field, covering as it does over 1,400 miles afforded wider scope for his energies. With these inducements, Mr. Wrenn accepted the offer and tendered his resignation to the management of the Western and Atlantic to take effect on the 10th. Yesterday Governor Brown and the directors met and offered to increase Mr. Wrenn's salary. In fact, it is understood that they were willing to pay any figure that he would suggest, but, for the reasons above mentioned, he felt it his duty to adhere to his resolution.

Mr. Wrenn leaves the service of the road with the best wishes of all connected with it. In his new position he will not be among strangers, but among friends. His relations with Major Fink, the general manager of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, and with Major O'Brien, the general superintendent, have always been cordial, and being thrown much together in the business of the Kennesaw route, these two gentlemen have learned to appreciate Mr. Wrenn's work as a man and as a railroad official.

Although the duties of his position will call him away much of his time, Mr. Wrenn does not propose to change his residence, at least not for the present.

It is understood that Mr. Joseph M. Brown, the efficient general freight agent, will have the duties of the general passenger and ticket agent added to his position. The directors, when they found that Mr. Wrenn's resignation would not be reconsidered, insisted upon this appointment, and that it will prove highly satisfactory to the public and all concerned is a foregone conclusion. Mr. Brown's fine business ability has been well tested in his present important and arduous position, and although he already has enough to employ his time and attention, there is no doubt that he will so systematize the two departments as to enable him, with his well disciplined assistants, to run both smoothly and satisfactorily to the road and the public.

Railroad Points.

Mr. B. W. Wrenn leaves for Cincinnati this afternoon on a business trip.

In the new list of assignments just issued by the Queen and Crescent route are the following:

Of the 200,000 miles of railroad in the world we have in the United States 120,000 miles, costing $6,000,000,000.

The fifty tons of steel rails recently purchased by the Memphis and Charleston railroad will be delivered about the first of October. The road will be put in first class condition.

The directors of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad will meet in Nashville Wednesday for the purpose of electing a president. It is thought General Manager Thomas will be elected to the position.

T. T. Greene, as general southern agent, with headquarters at Atlanta, Ga., assisted by C. T. Murphy, city passenger agent, will have charge of passenger business in Atlanta and tributary territory.

D. J. Mullaney, as traveling passenger agent, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., will have charge of advertising and soliciting passenger business within the territory embraced by the states of Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina, east of the Blue Ridge.

The Louisville and Nashville and the Central.

From the Montgomery Advertiser.

There is a rumor afloat to the effect that the Central railroad and banking company of Georgia is on the point of advancing to the Louisville and Nashville company $5,000,000 which that company needs. It will be remembered that the Advertiser several days ago published an associated press dispatch from New York to the effect that the Louisville and Nashville would shortly issue $5,000,000 in new six per cent bonds and an equal amount in five per cent preferred stock.

As to the rumor regarding the Central railroad's part in this business, it is said that the Central will furnish $5,000,000 and assume control of the Louisville and Nashville line from Montgomery to New Orleans and run it in the interest of the great Central system, which now extends from Montgomery through Eufaula and Macon to Savannah, to Atlanta and to other points. While this rumor will find many believers, it probably has little foundation in fact. The most valuable link in the Louisville and Nashville system is that between Montgomery and New Orleans, and the Louisville and Nashville people would never part with it without a determined struggle. The rumor may be founded on fact, however, and developments may be looked for. And there may be some connection between this and the report that General Manager Gabbett, of the Western road, will assume control of the Louisville and Nashville line from Montgomery to New Orleans. At any rate, it is not impossible that we will have some lively railroad news in a few days.

THE COMMISSIONER'S REPORT.

What the Last Recommendations of the Railroad Commission Meant.

There seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to the position which the commissioners hold concerning the proposed amendment giving the right of appeal from their decisions. The commissioners merely reaffirm what they recommended in their semi-annual report of 1881, namely: That the railroads and the people should have a more easy mode of review of the action of the commission, but suggest very strongly that such appeals be acted upon at once and that if no decision is reached within thirty days, the rulings of the commission go in effect and so stand until set aside by the courts.

Their recommendation, therefore, is not to amend the law so as to give the right of appeal, but to make that appeal more easily attained and more readily determined. The commissioners do not hesitate to say that justice and the dignity of the state demand that the rates and rulings made by the commission must stand operative and effective until set aside by the courts of the state. Neither the law of Georgia nor the acts of her commission have even infringed on the powers of congress under the constitution of the United States, nor have the rights of the people of any other state been impaired by the law or the commission of Georgia. Any citizen of the United States, whenever he enters the state of Georgia, is entitled to all the rights and privileges and immunities of the citizen of the state except in the right of suffrage.

THE CONSTITUTION will print in its trade issue the report in full of the commission, so that all of its readers can see just what they recommend, and what they have recommended in the past.

An Important Suit.

A Gadsden, Alabama, special of the 6th to the Chattanooga Times, says:

The big railroad suit between Hugh Carlisle and the Tennessee and Coosa river navigation company and the East Alabama railroad company, which has occupied the entire court week, was decided this afternoon in favor of Carlisle. The matter has been in litigation for thirteen years. It grew out of the sale of the branch road from Attalla to Gadsden in 1871. Carlisle sold the road to the East Alabama railroad company for a specified sum on condition that the company extend the road to Guntersville. The panic came which put a stop to the work and after waiting a few years, Carlisle brough suit to recover possession of the road.

The verdict by the jury to-day gives Carlisle possession of the road and $21,000 damages. The road is worth $100,000.

A REMARKABLE CURE!

—IN WHICH—

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

—DECIDED—

TO USE THE KNIFE.

My wife and daughter suffered for years with an affection of the throat, which was gradually but surely undermining their health, and was a source of anxiety to all of us. Two of the best physicians of the city and also a surgeon were called in, and after a careful examination they decided that there was no chance for a cure unless they would consent to undergo a surgical operation. We were much opposed to the knife being used, until all other means had been exhausted. So, we began to use different throat remedies sold at drug stores. We finally got to Brewer's Lung Restorer, and the effects were truly wonderful; and after a few bottles had been taken they were entirely relieved of the trouble and their health fully restored. If any of my family should ever be similarly affected, I would, if necessary, travel around the world in order to get this remedy.
Very respectfully, W. H. MANSFIELD,
Macon, Ga.

MACON, Ga., August 15th, 1880.

With great pleasure I certify to the efficacy of that truly excellent preparation—Brewer's Lung Restorer. It has indeed proven to be a sovereign remedy in my family. For many months my wife has suffered from weak lungs, and has experienced great difficulty in breathing, so much so that she could not sleep at all at night; she also lost her appetite, and, in fact, her condition was truly alarming. The Lung Restorer having been recommended by several friends, I resolved to get it and test its virtues, which I did, and with the most happy effect. She has taken but two bottles, and the result is wonderful. She now experiences no difficulty in breathing, her appetite is good, and she is rapidly regaining her strength and I am convinced its continued use will effect a permanent cure. I would, therefore, cheerfully recommend it to all who have weak lungs, as it cannot fail to be of great benefit to all who may give it a trial.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. SIMS.

The above testimonial was given in 1880. Hear what the same gentleman says after an interval of four years:

"I have had no cause to change my opinion relative to the efficacy of Brewer's Lung Restorer in cases of diseased lungs. The benefit derived by my wife from its use has been permanent. My faith in its virtues is such that I cheerfully recommend it to all who are afflicted with pulmonary disease.

ATLANTA, SEPTEMBER 9, 1882.

A GREAT PAPER.

AMERICAN JOURNALISM

CHEAP ADVERTISING!

We call special attention to the

WEEKLY CONSTITUTION

as the best advertising medium for the states of Georgia, Florida, Alabama and the Carolinas.

WE GUARANTEE 23,000 CIRCULATION!

One year ago the circulation of the Weekly was 9,000. It is now 23,000, and is rapidly increasing. This circulation is supported by affidavits and by our lists, of which inspection is invited. We intend to push it to 50,000 within the coming year.

Contracts for advertising may be made now, based on present circulation, at little more than

Half a Cent a Line Per 1,000 of circulation.

This is the cheapest and best advertising offered by any medium in the world.

VERMONT and Maine were both loaded.

GEORGIA leads off with the October states. The republicans still have a fighting chance.

THE republicans will dispose of "soap" freely in the Tennessee campaign. This, however, will not prevent Tennessee from rolling up its usual democratic majority.

AS THE democrats are making steady gains in the staid republican states of the east, the latter party is now crying that the war has been transferred to the west. All right, to the west with it, then. Maybe sadder disappointments await them there.

BEN BUTLER's announcement that his candidacy is based on hopes of defeating Cleveland may as well have been left unsaid. This is just exactly what everybody knew he meant. Ben's hope though, has on more than one occasion, gotten the better of his judgment.

AMONG the notable cases of the rejection of candidates for admission to the naval academy in Annapolis are those of Mr. Hamilton, of New Jersey, who was rejected because of color blindness, and another candidate was rejected because one leg was an inch longer than the other. The singularity of the thing is, the candidate never knew his legs were odds until the naval board measured them.

IT is now generally conceded that Tammany will support Cleveland and Hendricks. In his speech to the meeting Saturday night John Kelly advised them to do so, and said that Tammany would support the democratic nominees. Both the New York Sun and Tribune concede this. Is it probable that Cleveland will again sweep the state?

IT is evident that the administration means business in Georgia. The scissors have been placed on the thread on which Madison Davis dangles as postmaster of Athens, and he has been notified that the democrats in his office must go, and furthermore that no democrats are wanted on his bond. Hence it it will now become an ideal office in the eyes of Hatton.

MR. PATRICK WALSH'S PREDICTION.

Mr. Walsh appears to get madder the longer he thinks about his late letter and THE CONSTITUTION's criticism thereon.

We really do not see the reason for this. Mr. Walsh wrote a letter that we thought unwise, and we said so. That is all there is in it. We see no cause, or excuse, for the profound melancholy and tragic sense of wrong into which Mr. Walsh is plunged. One would think from the deep bass voice in which Mr. Walsh thunders through his editorial columns, and the lofty and frigid manner in which he refers to himself in the third persson, that a mortal injury had been done a man, whom it were treason to even look askance at.

Only once does Mr. Walsh relieve the sombre atmosphere of martyrdom in which he has enveloped himself. He says, and we adopt, if you observe, the impersonal manner in which he alludes to himself: "Mr. Walsh is very grateful that he is permitted to live in Augusta after he has diametrically disagreed with THE CONSTITUTION." This is light and sparkling, but it is very foolish. It is unworthy of a man of Mr. Walsh's depth of profundity, and is small burden for the deep and sonorous voice on which the usual wisdom of Mr. Walsh is freighted to the world. We have no right to say that Mr. Walsh shall not live in Augusta. We have no right to go there and kill him. And we have less wish to do either. As long as Mr. Walsh pays his taxes and earns a living—and he is liabie to do both for a long time—he knows very well that he does not have to obtain the permission of THE CONSTITUTION to pay taxes and eke that living in any particular place.

But Mr. Walsh sought the place of member of the national committee. He was selected, with the hearty approval of THE CONSTITUTION. As member of that committee he has done an unwise thing. And we have said so and continue to say so. Mr. Walsh does not repair his mistake by posing as a man who has been struck for nothing, and uttering grave sarcasm. He is too good a man, too upright a man, and too cordial a man for that. He will get down off his stilts, smooth his ruffles down and go to work.

A MATTER OF VITAL IMPORTANCE.

Last night the moon was shining brightly and the writer took a drive over the city. Flanking every ridge, on which our principal streets are located, a dense white fog, about thirty feet in length and breadth, lay along the gullies. The moon shone on it and the light was reflected back from the thick banks of fog.

The lines of cloud marked the course of open sewers. From the exact center of our city, ramify great brick or cement sewers. They are enclosed a greater or less distance from the center and then are left open. In almost every quarter of the city, about one mile from the carshed, one can see the yawning mouths of these sewers, vomiting their overloads of filth into shallow flats. Usually a torpid branch, fed by vilest liquid, trickles from the mouth of the unfinished sewer, carrying the poisonous foetid matter and lodging it here and there in the flats. On it winds its limping way, by the side of the dwellings of innocent people, who have paid their taxes and whose lives are precious. Above these nasty waterways, banks of poison gather, as clouds in the sky. The breezes that plough through them carry the deadly stuff into the houses of people half a mile away, into windows that anxious mothers have opened that their delicate children may get a bit of fresh breeze. Wherever the wind laden with that white fog touches, it carries disease and often death. The cow that drinks from these infamous flats yields poisoned milk.

We doubt if any other city in the world o the size of Atlanta, would tolerate such death traps. But they can be found in almost any quarter of Atlanta. If a man were to view the city from a balloon at night, in a hundred vallies he would see these banks of filthy mist shining in the moonlight and waving in the breezes. Atlanta's chief charm and chief strength is her healthfulness. Her assured freedom from malaria in any of its forms, its delightful airs, pure and refreshing, are its main attractions. These have done more to build it up than any other thing or things.

Shall we sacrifice this? It is the deliberate truth that we are about to do so. Our perfect healthfulness heretofore has made us bold. But already we are getting in the toils of malaria. Fevers unknown here a few years ago are frequent now. Cases of sickness that twenty years ago yielded to a few days' treatment now hold the patient for weeks, and often kill him of very exhaustion. Our city authorities take a fearful responsibility when they permit these unfinished sewers to remain and empty their deadly poisons on the flanks of our thoroughfares. At any cost and at any hazard these sewers should be taken in hand at once and should be finished beyond the city line in every direction. There is no duty so sacred as protecting the health of the people—none that we have so shamefully neglected—none that will so certainly and so fatally punish our neglect.

IS IT A REVOLUTION?

The present campaign is characterized by such extraordinary bolts, revolts, independent methods and other convulsive symptoms, that the anxious patriot may well exclaim, "Watchman, what of the night?"

It is to be feared that the alleged sentinel on the watchtower has suffered his customary vigilance to relax. At all events, he has suffered one of the most critical moments in our history to pass without running up the usual danger signal, or giving the slightest note of warning. Recent political upheavals have more than once thrown the times out of joint and placed the bottom rail on top. It is well to take warning from the past when we are plunged into such complications as confront us to-day. In this campaign the masses are rapidly losing sight of vital principles of government and political economy. The conspicuous issues of the hour are sham morality, beer, anti-beer, sham labor reform, and in order to make confusion worse confounded, at the eleventh hour, Mrs. Belva Lockwood pranees to the front as the presidential candidate of the woman's national equal rights party!

With this new danger looming up, a partial paralysis seems to have seized all the political parties in its deadening grip. Old lady Lockwood is well known to be a woman of grim determination, indomitable energy and chic. She is not to be trifled with. When she meets an emergency she follows the course of the Irishman—"takes a stick and busts the 'mergency's head." It is hard to fight such an opponent. Single-handed, or rather supported only by her own party, the old lady Lockwood could be easily disposed of. But she may pick up a pointer from Butler's tactics and issue the order to her followers to "fuse." This is where the danger comes in. Standing as she does on an eclectic platform, a patchwork concern made up from the platforms of all the other parties, she is better prepared than either Butler or St. John for the fusion business, and may not only gobble up their supporters but also secure the dissatisfied elements in the other political camps. The election may thus be thrown into the house of representatives, and in a moment of weakness, terrorized by an army of lobbyists headed by Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Mary A. Livermore and Lucy Stone, it is possible that our quaking lawmakers would elect old lady Lockwood.

With Madame Belva in the presidential chair it goes without saying that the country would be delivered over to petticoat rule. No able-bodied male patriot would stand a ghost of a chance in the matter of getting an office. The trouser-wearing portion of the nation would be forced to take back seats, and all the "cold days" in the calendar would be parceled out to them. Under such a rule the lords of creation would dwindle into insignificant pigmies. Deprived of the privilege of going to the "lodge" five nights in the week, compelled to work for a living instead of holding office, with whisky and tobacco taxed so as to be practically out of their reach, the condition of the male citizens would be deplorable in the extreme.

But we cannot pursue this gloomy theme. We have hinted at enough to put the trouser-wearers on their guard. We must be up and doing, or Madame Belva and her petticoated, ruffled, fluted and banged followers will compass our ruin.

The Resignation of Mr. B. W. Wrenn.

The announcement of Mr. B. W. Wrenn's resignation as general passenger agent of the Western and Atlantic railroad will be read with universal regret by our people.

For over sixteen years Mr. Wrenn has held the position he resigned yesterday, and it is safe to say that no man in that time has done more than he to advertise Atlanta, to keep it to the front, to throw the tide of travel into it and through it. Active, comprehensive, tireless and capable, he has had no thought but this for a term of years that is the third of a man's life.

One can hardly understand that Mr. Wrenn has really left the State road, and that the fame of the "old Kennesaw route," which is of his creation, will be left to other hands. It will be readily understood that he left against the wishes of the lessees. They urged him to withdraw his resignation. They asked him to name his own salary. He persisted, however, in his resignation, because of the wider field and the greater future offered him in his new position. From having 138 miles of road he has 1,431, besides 1,100 miles of roads run conjointly with it. His new place is one of the highest and best in the country, and he cannot be blamed for accepting it.

Wherever B. W. Wrenn may go he goes with the assurance that he has the best wishes of the people of Atlanta. Wherever he is Atlanta has a friend. As to his ability, some one has said: "Doubtless the Lord could have made a better berry than the strawberry—but he never did." So we may say: "Doubtless the Lord could have made a better passenger agent that B. W. Wrenn—but he never did."

THE only independent candidate for congress in Georgia is Henry Persons, and he is much too clever to engage in that business. We trust Brother Persons will reform.

EDITOR PENDLETON, of Valdosta, shows that he appreciates the dignity and responsibility of the profession by refusing to become a candidate for the legislature.

GEORGE ALFRED GATH is still for Blaine, claiming that those little transactions described in the Mulligan letters are merely the outcroppings of a perfect and wholesouled statesmanship.

THE London Times has an editorial writer who would create a sensation in American journalism. In a recent issue of the Times he had an editorial covering seven columns of space, filling one editorial page and running over on another. This remarkable effort shows what a man can do when his heart is in his work. We have had editors in this country who wrote seven column editorials, but they are all dead. In fact it is only in England that such writers flourish. Here they would now be regarded with awe, but as a daily paper cannot live on awe alone there are very few openings for a seven column leader writer. The London journalist, however, could reach the American public by issuing an editnrial as a serial in the cheap "Seaside" issues. Whether the venture would pay or not is another matter.

BLAINE's attitude toward the Cleveland scandal stories was in the worst possible taste. When the politicians against Cleveland were coming out it is known that Blaine encouraged the use of the outrageous stuff as the most effective mode of warfare against Cleveland. While decent people were looking for Blaine to call a halt in the disgraceful business that unscrupulous campaigner was doing his best to stir up the muddy waters. Such conduct was not what the people expected from a plumed knight, and it is natural that it should recoil upon him when he is made the subject of a similar line of attack.

PROFESSOR WIGGINS predicts a heavy storm on the 20th of this month, and another one in December.

"THE people," says an organ, "ought to sing psalms of praise at the work accomplished by republicanism." Very well. Let us begin with the beautiful song:

"Still so gently o'er us stealing."

A LOSS of fourteen per cent in the republican vote in Maine is regarded by Editor Moses Handy, as a part of the Blaine programme? If the situation pleases Editor Handy as well as it does the democrats, he must have a very comfortable feeling under his vest.

THE hats of great men all remind us that we have heads to cover, and if we keep our eyes open many valuable hints may be picked up. President Arthur wears a tall silk hat, with a broad, nearly straight brim. There is no hat like it in Washington. Attorney-General Brewster wears a high, white silk hat, with a bulging crown and rolling brim. Mr. Blaine sometimes wears a stylish silk hat, but his favorite is a black slouch. General Butler and Senators Edmunds and Hoar wears slouches. General Logan divides his time between a slouch and a silk. Senator Ingall wears a tall, prim looking silk hat. Secretary Chandler wears a Derby, Senator Mahone wears a light brown slouch. Commissioner Loring wears the most dignified looking silk hat in Washington. In the matter of hats great men indulge a wide variety of tastes.

THE emperor of Germany is very feeble and is not likely to last much longer. He is an octogenarian, and was present at both Waterloo and Sedan. Twice in his eventful career he has seen the heads of French imperialism humbled to the dust. Few rulers have lived a more eventful career.

MURAT HALSTEAD is sixty-four. Old enough to know better than to fool away money on such paper as the New York Extra.

LOTTA has returned from England. She brought her kick with her.

WE observe in some of the papers that Ben Butler is "raising a tornado in the west." This able man must be almost as gifted in this line as a mess of dried apples and water.

EDITOR DANA is not traveling with the Butler panorama. He is merely the stationery bill-poster.

THE London papers view our campaign of scandal with indignant disapproval. In reply to the statement of an American journal that every great English statesman of the last hundred years has been guilty of just such indiscretions" as are charged against Blaine and Cleveland, the London World says that Americans must be singularly ignorant. There was never even a whisper against the private characters of Mr. Pitt, Lord Grenville, Mr. Percival, Lord Liverpool, Lord Eldan, Mr. Conning, Lord Grey, Lord Althorp, Sir Robert Peel, Lord Russell, Lord Aberdeen or the Earl of Beaconsfield. Those are the most prominent names of the past hundred years.

THE New South, published in English and German, is the name of a handsome sixteen-page weekly just started in New York. It is devoted to immigration and colonization in the southern states.

BOWEN, of the Independent, who sold his editorial columns to Jay Cooke & Co. to advertise bankrupt railroad bonds, is opposed to Cleveland on moral grounds.

JOHN KELLY, is engaged in "postponing." Perhaps after all, it is Kelly himself who is to be postponed.

REPUBLICAN committees out west have discovered that Senator Lot M. Morrill is dead. The fact was brought to their knowledge by Mrs. Morrill in such an emphatic and impressive way that they are not likely to again invite the dead senator to take the stump for Blaine.

GROVER CLEVELAND leads all the other presidential candidates in the number of biographies now before the people. The general demand for these works shows the widespread popularity of the "man of destiny."

THE country is now full of redbugs and candidates.

THE moonshiny nights are hastening forward the career of Brer Possum.

EVERY candidate ought to be compelled to give his friends a barbecue.

SUSPENDERS are now considered more important than any other article of a gentleman's apparel. The best suspenders are French. They sell in this market at $5 a pair. Some of them are handpainted. They are so gorgeous in appearance and so easy that many young men feel satisfied with an old or a cheap coat when they are wearing a pair of these picturesque suspenders. Unfortunately they cannot be exhibited to as much advantage as a coat.

VICTORIA WOODHULL was the first female candidate for the presidency, but old lady Lockwood is the first woman who ever received a nomination for that office.

THE hiatus in the republican party has not been accounted for by the Blaine boomers.

EDITOR HANDY still insists on the personal magnetism business. Such childish confidence as this will cause Editor Handy to stroke his side-whiskers with some bitterness a little later in the season.

IT is not an easy matter for a metropolitan journalist to keep up with all his engagements. Take Editor Dana, for instance. One day he had an engagement to endorse the democratic platform and the next he had an engagement to renounce it. He has succeeded in carrying out both engagements, but it was at the expense of a large amount of muscular tissue. Let us sympathize with Editor Dana in his misfortunes rather than denounce him.

ECHOES FROM THE PEOPLE.

England's Free Trade.

H. W., Oxanna, Ala: Does England levy custom duties on any necessaries of life?

Yes, on tea, coffee, cocoa, dried fruit, tobacco, beer, manufactures of gold and silver, and many other articles. England is only relatively a free-trade country, and it has taken many hundred years of protection to bring her to her present standpoint.

Gray Hair.

Reader, Athens, Ga: What is the cause of prematurely gray hair?

When the hair has a weak constitution it falls out or turns gray. Frequent cutting is said to weaken the hair.

Recipe for Hay Fever.

P. J. M., Atlanta: Is there any cure for the hay fever?

The best cure is a change of climate, but the following recipe is recommended by one who has tried it:

Potassa chloratis, grs. x.
Spirit æther nit., 1 drachm.
Aqua, an ounce and a half.
Mix; take whole at bed time.

St. John's Home.

Subscriber, Ga.: Where does St. John, the prohibition candidate for the presidency, reside?

At Olathe, Kansas.

As to a Record.

AUGUSTA, September 7.—Russ's record of fifteen "struck out" in the Chattanooga-Atlanta game is not the best Georgia record. Clem, of the Georgetown club, recently "struck out" fifteen men in the Dixie-Georgetown game, and Kilroy, of the Browns, "struck out" sixteen men here in the Brown-Gopher game. AUGUSTA.

Prominent Visiting Journalists.

Mr. Charles Hodges, the managing editor of the Nashville American, with Mr. Mike Cain, the foreman of the press room of that journal, spent yesterday and the day before in the city, having come on a tour of inspection of THE CONSTITUTION's new quarters and equipment. The American is the most prominent and influential of the Tennessee dailies, and by its unswevering fight for democratic principles has done much to disrupt what little hold the republicans have gained in Tennessee. It has thus become a power in the politics of the state as well as influential in national council of the party. Both Messrs. Hodges and Cain fill important positions on the paper and are thorough journalists.

Mr. T. L. Gantt, of the Athens Banner-Watchman, was also THE CONSTITUTION's visitor yesterday. He came down especially to see the new press at work, and expresses himself as being thoroughly repaid for his trip.

The Coming Attractions.

Mr. Charlie Howard, of DeGive's opera house, returned last night from New York, where he has been looking after the interests of the opera house. He was accompanied by Mr. J. Tannenbaum, of the Montgomery opera house.

"What have you done for this circuit?" asked a CONSTITUTION man of Mr. Tannenbaum.

"I have made some very fine engagements for the southern circuit, including the Madison Square theater successes, May Blossom, Brooks & Dickson's Romany Rye, Mr. Neil Burgess in "Vim;" Union Square successes, Bartley Campbell's "Separation," "Aime" in English comedy, Catharine Lewis, in the new comic opera, Madame Boniface, Hetson Monte Cristo, with James O'Neil and fine support, Miss Clara Morris and perhaps Lotta. I made Mr. Fulford, the manager of Miss Annie Pixley, an offer to pay him $15,000 for a 12-weeks engagement, and to furnish company printing, traveling and all other expenses. Mr. Fulford could not for the present accept, as Miss Pixley will leave for Europe in a few days for a rest. Should she get tired of resting she may come later in the season. During my stay in New York, two London managers have sent agents to Mr. Fulford, trying to get Miss Pixley to accept great inducements to play in London during her visit. Miss Pixley is not alone a great favorite here in the south, but she is one of the best prairie stars all over this country. I have also the management for all of Dr. Talmadge's lectures the coming season, and will bring him to Atlanta. We will also have "Called Back," now being played at the Fifth Avenue theater.

THE FIGHT IN OHIO.

The Great Republican Disaffection and Continued Rally to Cleveland.

CINCINNATI, September 7.—[Special Correspondence of The Constitution.]—That there should be considerable speculation on the result of the October and November elections in Ohio is natural. Though the electoral vote of this state has been given for the nominee of the republican party since it came into existence, the state elections have been a series of surprises since "Rise Up" William Allen broke the monotony of republican victories in 1873. Once the spell was broken success for the democracy was not as hard to obtain. Since Allen went by less than one thousand votes the once magnificent republican majority of 100,000 has dwindled to a pitiful few hundred, and occasionally the state has gone from 10,000 to 25,000 the other way. In ten years the democrats have elected three governors, Allen, Bishop and Hoadly—by majorities ranging from one to 25,000. They have likewise captured all the other offices occasionally, with the exception of state auditor, which until last fall had been controlled by the republican party since before the war. Last year this office, too, came into the possession of the democracy on the tidal wave. For the first time in twenty-five years the democrats have entire possession of the statehouse, with a democratic supreme court, and the use of all the state machinery and patronage. This is backed by a legislature with a two-thirds democratic majority and a United States senator. How in the face of all this astute republicans can consistently claim Ohio as a sure state for Blaine is one of the problems that can only be guessed at. If they suppose for a moment that such experienced political managers as Gilbert H. Barger, chairman of the state executive committee, backed by men of the wealth and influence of John R. McLean, John W. Bookwalter and Henry B. Payne, will not use this power to advantage, they are greatly mistaken. To a careful student of Ohio politics it looks ridiculous. They cannot think otherwise than that Ohio is a doubtful and dangerous state. Pretending to think it safe beyond a doubt they are trying to detract democratic attention by a make believe war for West Virginia, Florida and Virginia, while they flood the buckeye state with "soap" and emissaries to patch up their damaged fences.

No candid man can gainsay the assertion that Ohio at the coming October election is at least debatable ground. Neither can it be said that the democrats have not an equal chance, even if they have not a shade the better of it.

An element enters into the campaign here this fall that is not generally understood. It is the old issue, the bugaboo that has disturbed both parties for the last two or three years—the liquor question. This year it presents itself in a new garb. It has not been discussed, and probably will not be, because the papers and the politicians do not care to agitate it, uncertain for whom it may be loaded.

If the feeling for Butler in Ohio can be gauged by the support he is receiving in Cincinnati, he will have but a miserable following in the state. A call was made for a mass convention of voters in favor of Butler, to meet at Workmen's hall and nominate a full citizens ticket. The call was made for Saturday evening because it was argued that the laborers would be free on that night, above all others, to attend. In response thirty-nine men came up smiling and nominated a full congressional and county ticket. The men present comprise the communistic element of the trades' assembly. They are the men who stood by and defended the rioters and who denounced the military in incendiary speeches for doing their duty under orders. It is a most significant fact that they are men who denounced Governor Cleveland in the trades' assembly as the candidate of monopolies and said that Blaine was preferable. With few exceptions they have hitherto all been pronounced republicans, and their support of Butler is a direct republican loss.

A careful and conscientious investigation of the extent of the alleged Irish disaffection in this vicinity shows badly for the republicans. An Irish Blaine and Logan club has been organized. It has a fair membership, but not a Simon pure democrat has joined it. George Sweeney, a leading light, is a republican letter carrier. Dr. Garrick is the republican nominee for coroner. John J. Geghan was a democratic member of the legislature seven or eight years ago, and through a bil he introduced became widely known as "Saint" Geghan. When Governor Foster was a candidate the first time Geghan became his confidential agent in different schemes. Colonel John Enright, another prominent member, has always been all things to all parties. Not a single member of the club comes from the bosom of the democracy.

There have been desertions from the ranks of both parties in this city. In point of numbers and the influence gained the democrats have rather the better of it so far. The admirers of Blaine and Logan here have no recent converts to point out who can take the place of such prominent business men as Pitts H. Burt and John Stettinius, who have declared for Cleveland.

ARCHBISHOP GIBBONS.

Pastoral Letter to His Archdiocese Relative to the Assembling of the Plenary Council.

BALTIMORE, Md., September 8.—The pastoral letter from Archbishop Gibbons was read in all the churches of the archdiocese to-day relative to the assembling of the plenary council in November. The pastoral says:

Every state and diocese in the union will be represented at the approaching council by prelates and priests, and although they are descended from divers nations and speak every European tongue, they are all united by the bonds of common faith, and animated by the spirit of fraternal charity. * * * The object for which this council is summoned, as you are well aware, is not to formulate new dogmas of faith, for only the doctrine we preach now is "the faith once delivered to the saints," nor will our deliberations have any political significance to redress; no political aspirations to gratify. The church of God has no direct connection with politics. Political intrigues form no part of her divine mission. The kingdom of Christ and His church, is not of this world. She renders to Cæsar things that are Cæsar's, and to God things that are God's. The enactment of salutary laws for the promotion of piety and sound morals, the correction of abuses, the establishment, so far as practicable discipline, the development of a Christian commonwealth, the quickening and strengthening of bonds of charity, which should bind us all, as members of a Christian family, to our God and to each other; these are the signal blessings at which we aim in assembling together.

The Democratic Campaign in the South-east.

Dawson, chairman of the sub-committee, leaves for New York in the morning.

BURNSIDE'S BOND.

The Defense Set Up that His Appointment was Irregular.

WASHINGTON, September 8.—In the suit of the United States against James O. P. Burnside and N. L. Jeffries, on the bond of Burnside, late disbursing clerk of the postoffice department and superintendent of the postoffice department building, pleas were entered by the defendents to-day. The pleas are six in number, and the defense set up is based solely upon technicalities.

It is pleaded that Burnside was not legally superintendent of the building and disbursing clerk, that he was never eligible to such office, and that the postmaster general did not, on the first of October, 1875, nor at any other time, pursuant to law, appoint him to such office, and that consequently the bond upon which the suit is brought is irregular as it purports to have been executed as an official bond of the superintendent and disbursing clerk under a pretended appointment. It is further pleaded that the bond was unauthorized and is illegal and void; that its amount is not such as directed by the secretary of the treasury; that the postoffice department prepared a bond and required its execution before Burnside should be permitted to remain in the office, and that the bond having been thus required and extorted from him under color of office, this forms a condition variant and wholly different from the condition required by the act of congress, the latter requiring solely that the bond be conditional for the faithful discharge of the duties of the office according to law. It is also averred in the plea of the defendant that Burnside faithfully executed and discharged all the duties of his office, and did truly and faithfully keep safely and disburse all sums of public money placed in or coming in his hands from to time.

SWINDLING THE CLERKS.

A Method Devised by Which to Collect Political Assessments.

WASHINGTON, September 8.—A new device for collecting campaign assessments from government employes has been made public through the medium of a letter from Civil Service Commissioner Dorman B. Eaton, in reply to one of the clerks called upon to contribute. The method consists of the distribution of circulars calling upon the recipients to become members of "state associations," which associations have so amended their by-laws recently that dues for two years become payable in advance at once. Mr. Eaton's reply says, in substance, that if the funds collected by this means are used for political purposes, all parties concerned, those who levy and collect this money, those who pay it and those who disburse it, if in the government employ, are equally liable to the punishment prescribed under the civil service laws. Mr. Eaton's letter is long, and it goes into the subject in much detail. Its purport is that the scheme possesses scarcely enough plausibility to make its attempt at evasion of civil service laws respectable.

The Wheat Crop of Europe.

WASHINGTON, September 8.—United States Consul Plexatts, at Lyons, has forwarded a report to the department of state relative to the crops of this year in France. He says the wheat crop will amount to about 316,000,000 bushels, which will surpass the harvest of 1883 by over 30,000,000 bushels. The quality is reported as being in excellent condition. The rice crop will equal 77,000,000 bushels. The quality is very superior. The Indian corn crop will amount to 33,000,000 bushels, and the potato crop to 41,200,000 bushels. Reports from England and the continental countries also state fine wheat crops. The English crop, in particular, has really been so fine that these reports have affected and will still more seriously affect the price of wheat, which is falling daily. A cry for protection by increased duties on foreign wheat goes up loudly from all parts of France.

Suspending the Government Printers.

WASHINGTON, September 8.—During the past few days there has been a large reduction of the force employed in the government printing office. The printers who are employed on the Congressional Record, most of whom are usually carried along during the summer in other departments of the office have all been furloughed, and to-day 100 of the printers in the job room received furlough. It is expected that the services of a large number of others will soon be temporaily dispensed with.

The Broadway Surface Sold.

NEW YORK, September 8.—At a meeting of the board of aldermen to-day, a communication was received from the mayor, enclosing the opinion of the corporation counsel on the action of the aldermen regarding the Broadway surface railroad franchise. The mayor says that because of this opinion he returned without action or recognition the resolutions passed at the meeting of August 30 last. The matter was discussed at some length by the body, and finally, on motion, was laid on the table.

Heavy Shipments From Chattanooga.

A Tennessee Bank Suspends.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., September 8.—The Lincoln Savings bank, at Fayetteville, this state, closed its doors this morning. A placard on the door explains that the stringency of the money market and inability to collect, forced the suspension. The depositors, it is said, will be paid in full.

The Great Heat.

NEW YORK, September 8.—Some of the bricklayers and laborers employed in this city and Brooklyn were obliged to quit their work in consequence of the heat. Henry Glassender, 50 years old, a resident at Brooklyn, was overcome by heat to-day, and died on his way to the hospital.

NEW YORK, September 8.—There were 1?3 deaths on Sunday in New York city, a majority of which were directly the result of intense heat.

Colonel Cash Cools Down.

CHERAW, S. C., September 8.—[Special.]—Since his case was nol prossed, Colonel E. B. C. Cash has not made any hostile demonstration against his enemies. He is resting quietly at his home near Cheraw. I do not believe he intends hurting anybody.

Convent of St. Peter and Paul.

Yesterday morning at 8:30 the Catholic congregation of SS. Peter and Paul assembled at their church to assist at the dedication of the new convent, which fronts on Luckie street, in the rear of the church. Sister Athenasius is the superioress assisted by Sister Leo and Sister Melanie. Sister Melanie will be recognized by all who visit the convent as Miss Mattie Holliday, who has now fully donned the garb of the sisterhood. After the ceremonies, the sisters took charge of the school, 125 scholars having been enrolled during the morning. The ceremonies were of an impressive character. Father McMahon, who has the parish in charge, is a priest of stirring disposition.

IN MEMORIAM.

ERMON OF DR. HAYGOO
MEMORY OF BISHOP PIERC

A Great Congregation at Trinity Church Night—A Tribute to the Great Bishop F One Who Knew and Loved Him—Memorial Services in the Other Churches.

One of the most impressive religious se ever seen in Atlanta was the Pierce me meeting at Trinity church last Sunday The church was packed to overflowing. main auditorium, the galleries and aisle crowded, and hundreds could not obta trance. The drapery of the church and signified the occasion of this great gath Above the pulpit was suspended in fe of crape, a white shield, on which was t scription "To live was Ch then "Bishop Pierce," and "To die was gain." It had been anno that Rev. Atticus G. Haygood, D. D., dent of Emory college, would repeat th mon he preached last Friday at the bi funeral in Sparta. Dr. Haygood preach 11 o'clock in the morning at Salem ground in Newton county, and after d drove five miles across the country to the afternoon train for Atlanta, reaching city at 6 o'clock. If the labors of the day had taxed his str he gave no evidence of the fact in his ma cent sermon Sunday night. A preacher had closer attention, though the church densely crowded and the night was warm. Dr. Haygood probably knew the bishop better than any other living man. the last ten years, especially, the inti between them was peculiarly close.

After the singing of the hymn beginn "Soldier of Christ well done," Dr. Kenda fered a prayer. Then, another hymn sung. Dr. Haygood read two lessons the scripture and took as text the 7th verse of the 14th chapter of mans, "No man liveth to himself and no dieth to himself." He said that though B op Pierce was dead it seemed that we c see him now clearer than ever. He n was so well known, or so well loved as now. It was said of John Wesley tha had a genius for holiness. It might be sai Bishop Pierce that he had

A GENIUS FOR LOVING.

If there had been opportunity every so ty in the church would have b represented at his funeral. As it was, peo came from Florida, riding all night to re Sparta. Old friends from neighboring co ties, driving through all the night to be p ent at the burial. Everybody in Hanc county knew Bishop Pierce, rich and p white and black, young and old, and they loved him. He had never held an office cept in the church. He had no money, yet on the day when he was laid to rest eve store in the town, bar rooms all, was draped in sole mourning. The whole people mourn not only because they had lost their most d tinguished citizen, but because they had also their best friend. But while they mour ed they rejoiced that such a man had be permitted to live among them so long. Haygood then briefly sketched the career Bishop Pierce from his birth in Greene coun in 1811, to his death at "Sunshine," his ho near Sparta, last Wednesday morning. H labors in the itenerancy; his marriage, ov fifty years ago, to the noble woman who su vives him; his work for the Wesleya female college, of which he was th first president, and which was the first regularly organized female college in the world; his prominence in the council of the undivided Methodist church, especially in the general conference of 1844 when the church separated; his influence in organizing the Southern Methodist church; his friendship and untiring zea for Emory college; his efficient service third president of that institution; his election as bishop at Columbus in 1854; his wor among the Indians; his tireless energy in th work of the episcopacy; and his great usefulness as a preacher and a man were all powerfully portrayed. It has been said by som that he was killed by overwork. A few day before his death he said: "I went as far as could." He did not feel that he had bee overworked, for in all the toil of his laboriou life there was a constant joy.

HIS LARGE SOUL

hungered and thirsted for the work of th Master.

The characteristics of the bishop were give with clearness and force. The beautiful bal ance of his mental faculties was the chie source of his power. If one proof were re quired of his superiority none better could b given than the appointments he made a bishop. During his long term he made no les than 20,000 appointments and they displaye his wonderful judgment of men and his kee appreciation of the interests of the church.

AS A PREACHER

he was unequaled, though in his prime h was conceded to be the most eloquent leade of his church and many went much furthe in his praise. His eloquence depended on th occasion. The occasions he liked were no those which please many preachers. He ha a deep moral sense which revolted at the ide of displaying himself when a great crow came to hear fine preaching. The wealthiest congregation in his church sent half across a continent to for him to dedicate a magnificent new church. They filled the papers in advance with tributes to his eloquence and when he came he gave them a practical sermon on family prayer. I have heard him surpassingly eloquent in a log house before a few plain Methodist men and women. The most eloquent five minutes I ever head from him was under circumstances which would have been fatal to almost any preacher's effort. It was at Glennville, Alabama, in 1870. He was preaching of the power of religion when a negro woman, old, crippled, clad in clean but very coarse clothing, tottered down the aisle and up to the pulpit and held out her hand to the bishop. He took it just as Jesus would have done, and raising his other hand to heaven, thanked God for this witness of the power and comfort of religion. No man of our time preached so much on practical religion. He saw in this land a thousand family altars fallen down, and he went among the people preaching family religion and home as the

DRILL GROUND OF CHARACTER.

At times he preached above himself, above the reach of his unaided power. It was then that he felt the power that came down in tongues of fire at the pentecost; it was then that he looked beyond the veil and saw the flame that trembled between the cherubim.

Sometimes he spoke unpleasant truths. He did not think that the theater is a means of grace. He did not believe that dancing conduces to piety. Was he right? Remember with kindness the warming of a brave old man. You will not have such men to trouble you long. The times in which we live are not favorable to their development.

He was the most unselfish man I ever knew. He gave away with a hand so free that some wise people thought he ought to have a guardian. The sources of his power were many. In the first place as he came from "good human stock." He had clean fine blood in his veins. In his prime he was a splendid specimen of manhood, in his noble physique, a seeming king among men. The actions of his mind were as perfect as the gesture of his body was graceful. Among men he was brave. Among women he was pure as the starlight and full of all knightly graces.

HIS DEATH

ith its peace was not needed to sure our faith in him well, but it is a preus memory. The morning before he died whispered, "If I could talk we would have ovefeast here. All is well." The bright roundings and the perfect calm of his death were beautifully described by Dr. Hayd. He concluded with an appeal to the ng men and young women to-day to think of this

IN MEMORIAM.

ERMON OF DR. HAYGOOD IN MEMORY OF BISHOP PIERCE.

A Great Congregation at Trinity Church Sunday Night—A Tribute to the Great Bishop From One Who Knew and Loved Him—Memorial Services in the Other Churches.

One of the most impressive religious services ever seen in Atlanta was the Pierce memorial meeting at Trinity church last Sunday night. The church was packed to overflowing. The main auditorium, the galleries and aisles were crowded, and hundreds could not obtain entrance. The drapery of the church and altar signified the occasion of this great gathering. Above the pulpit was suspended in festoons of crape, a white shield, on which was the inscription "To live was Christ," then "Bishop Pierce," and then "To die was gain." It had been announced that Rev. Atticus G. Haygood, D. D., president of Emory college, would repeat the sermon he preached last Friday at the bishop's funeral in Sparta. Dr. Haygood preached at 11 o'clock in the morning at Salem camp ground in Newton county, and after dinner drove five miles across the country to catch the afternoon train for Atlanta, reaching this city at 6 o'clock. If the heavy labors of the day had taxed his strength he gave no evidence of the fact in his magnificent sermon Sunday night. A preacher never had closer attention, though the church was densely crowded and the night was very warm. Dr. Haygood probably knew the dead bishop better than any other living man. For the last ten years, especially, the intimacy between them was peculiarly close.

After the singing of the hymn beginning, "Soldier of Christ well done," Dr. Kendall offered a prayer. Then another hymn was sung. Dr. Haygood read two lessons from the scripture and took as his text the 7th verse of the 14th chapter of Romans, "No man liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself." He said that though Bishop Pierce was dead it seemed that we could see him now clearer than ever. He never was so well known, or so well loved as he is now. It was said of John Wesley that he had a genius for holiness. It might be said of Bishop Pierce that he had

A GENIUS FOR LOVING.

If there had been opportunity every society in the church would have been represented at his funeral. As it was, people came from Florida, riding all night to reach Sparta. Old friends from neighboring counties, driving through all the night to be present at the burial. Everybody in Hancock county knew Bishop Pierce, rich and poor, white and black, young and old, and they all loved him. He had never held an office except in the church. He had no money, and yet on the day when he was laid to rest every store in the town, bar rooms and all, was draped in solemn mourning. The whole people mourned, not only because they had lost their most distinguished citizen, but because they had lost also their best friend. But while they mourned they rejoiced that such a man had been permitted to live among them so long. Dr. Haygood then briefly sketched the career of Bishop Pierce from his birth in Greene county in 1811, to his death at "Sunshine," his home near Sparta, last Wednesday morning. His labors in the itenerancy; his marriage, over fifty years ago, to the noble woman who survives him; his work for the Wesleyan female college, of which he was the first president, and which was the first regularly organized female college in the world; his prominence in the council of the undivided Methodist church, especially in the general conference of 1844 when the church separated; his influence in organizing the Southern Methodist church; his friendship and untiring zeal for Emory college; his efficient service as third president of that institution; his election as bishop at Columbus in 1854; his work among the Indians; his tireless energy in the work of the episcopacy; and his great usefulness as a preacher and a man were all powerfully portrayed. It has been said by some that he was killed by overwork. A few days before his death he said: "I went as far as I could." He did not feel that he had been overworked, for in all the toil of his laborious life there was a constant joy.

HIS LARGE SOUL

hungered and thirsted for the work of the Master.

The characteristics of the bishop were given with clearness and force. The beautiful balance of his mental faculties was the chief source of his power. If one proof were required of his superiority none better could be given than the appointments he made as bishop. During his long term he made no less than 20,000 appointments and they displayed his wonderful judgment of men and his keen appreciation of the interests of the church.

AS A PREACHER

he was unequaled, though in his prime he was conceded to be the most eloquent leader of his church and many went much further in his praise. His eloquence depended on the occasion. The occasions he liked were not those which please many preachers. He had a deep moral sense which revolted at the idea of displaying himself when a great crowd came to hear fine preaching. The wealthiest congregation in his church sent half across a continent to for him to dedicate a magnificent new church. They filled the papers in advance with tributes to his eloquence and when he came he gave them a practical sermon on family prayer. I have heard him surpassingly eloquent in a log house before a few plain Methodist men and women. The most eloquent five minutes I ever head from him was under circumstances which would have been fatal to almost any preacher's effort. It was at Glennville, Alabama, in 1870. He was preaching of the power of religion when a negro woman, old, crippled, clad in clean but very coarse clothing, tottered down the aisle and up to the pulpit and held out her hand to the bishop. He took it just as Jesus would have done, and raising his other hand to heaven, thanked God for this witness of the power and comfort of religion. No man of our time preached so much on practical religion. He saw in this land a thousand family altars fallen down, and he went among the people preaching family religion and home as the

DRILL GROUND OF CHARACTER.

At times he preached above himself, above the reach of his unaided power. It was then that he felt the power that came down in tongues of fire at the pentecost; it was then that he looked beyond the veil and saw the flame that trembled between the cherubim.

Sometimes he spoke unpleasant truths. He did not think that the theater is a means of grace. He did not believe that dancing conduces to piety. Was he right? Remember with kindness the werning of a brave old man. You will not have such men to trouble you long. The times in which we live are not favorable to their development.

He was the most unselfish man I ever knew. He gave away with a hand so free that some wise people thought he ought to have a guardian. The sources of his power were many. In the first place as he came from "good human stock." He had clean fine blood in his veins. In his prime he was a splendid specimen of manhood, in his noble physique, a seeming king among men. The actions of his mind were as perfect as the gesture of his body was graceful. Among men he was brave. Among women he was pure as the starlight and full of all knightly graces.

HIS DEATH

ith its peace was not needed to sure our faith in him well, but it is a preous memory. The morning before he died whispered, "If I could talk we would have ovefeast here. All is well." The bright roundings and the perfect calm of his death- were beautifully described by Dr. Hayd. He concluded with an appeal to the ng men and young women to-day to think of this noble, unselfish life and to live as he did after the great divine exemplar. So it would be sweet to live and sweeter far to die. This imperfect analysis of Dr. Haygood's sermon will give but a faint idea of its interesting matter and its rare eloquence. It was a noble tribute to the great bishop's memory from one who loved him and who knew him as it was the privilege of few to know him. There were appropriate memorial services held also at the First Methodist church, St. Paul's, and the West End Methodist church. Atlanta Methodism paid a great and deserved tribute to the memory of its senior bishop. There were memorial services in Methodist churches all over the south, and many a loving tribute to the memory of the great and good man who is gone.

Services in Nashville.

THE MEMORIAL SEVICES FOR THE DEAD BISHOP BY THE METHODISTS OF NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, September 8.—A very large congregation assembled in McKendree Methodist church Sunday evening to participate in the memorial service held in honor of the late senior bishop of the church, Bishop George F. Pierce, of Georgia.

Rev. Dr. Harrison read a portion of the 16th chapter of the first epistle to the Corinthians. The 514th hymn was next read by Dr. W. M. Leftwich, and sung by the choir and congregation standing. Bishop McTyiere, who by the death of Bishop Pierce, has become the senior bishop of the church, said that they were met to hold a memorial service in honor of the deceased senior Bishop Pierce, who died Wednesday last. Bishop Pierce, he said, died in his seventy-third year. He was converted when a student in the university of Georgia, under the ministry of his father. He began his career as a law student in the office of his uncle; but one day the latter entered the office, and found the law books laid aside, and was told by his nephew that he felt that he was called to preach, and would embrace the ministry. For over one-half a century he had gone through the country, preaching the gospel—he could not have been induced to preach anything but the gospel. Many have thought him without a peer as a pulpit orator. He was consecrated in the highest sense of the word. He had no aims, purposes or desires outside of the church.

When such a light was put out and such a force withdrawn from the world, not only the church but the world was poorer. The loss was so great it could not now be comprehended. It would be realized in time to come. Bishop McTyeire alluded to the time not long since when Dr. McFerrin lay at the point of death. It was then expected that Bishop Pierce, his lifetime friend, would be here to attend the funeral of Dr. McFerrin. Events took a diffierent turn, however, and Dr. McFerrin, only last week, was requested by a meeting of the book committee and board of missions to attend the funeral of Bishop Pierce. Dr. McFerrin and the late bishop were like David and Jonathan, and such action was eminently appropriate.

Rev. Dr. J. B. McFerrin addressed the congregation concerning the life and work of the deceased. His tribute to the dead bishop was beautiful and touching.

Rev. Dr. A. A. Lipscomb, General Evans and J. C. C. Black Pay Tributes to the Great Bishop.

AUGUSTA, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—The venerable and eloquent Dr. Andrew A. Lipscomb, of Vanderbilt university, delivered the finest piece of panegyric ever heard in Augusta at the memorial service in honor of Bishop Pierce in St. John's church yesterday. He was assisted in the service by Rev. Clement A. Evans and by the pastor of St. John's, Rev. Mr. Warren A. Candler. The church was draped and appropriately decorated, and a large picture of the dead bishop was suspended in front of the organ immediarely in rear of the altar. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity.

Dr. Lipscomb spoke from the text in St. Paul's second epistle to Timothy, 4th chapter, 6-7: "For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight." The doctor preached for an hour and twenty minutes, and the picture of the venerable and white haired patriarch paying a most eloquent and feeling tribute to the memory of his dear friend, was most striking and effective. All the depths of his wonderful originality and the heights of his splendid imagination were sounded in his description of the great bishop, and the rhetorical figures of the discourse were simply the perfection of word painting. He described the bishop as the greatest natural orator of the time, and most eloquently pictured his natural or hereditary power and the personal character of the great orator and preacher. He beautifully said of the bishop's life as a child of nature, and of his sweet dependence upon the providence of his Heavenly Father that it would be a poem if it were not a sermon." This same beautiful expression would apply to Dr. Lipscomb's memorial of yesterday.

Last night, in St. James church, another memorial service was held, and Rev. General C. A. Evans preached one of his own exquisite and perfect sermons. It touched the popular heart and is regarded as one of his finest efforts. General Evans was followed by Hon. James C. C. Black, who delivered a powerful and most eloquent tribute to the character and memory of the bishop. Several hundred people were turned away, who could not find entrance to the church.

Services at the Bishop's Home.

SPARTA, Ga., September 8.—[Special.]—Services in memory of Bishop Pierce were held in the Methodist church yesterday, conducted by Rev. Mr. Foote. The house was draped as on Friday. "I Would Not Live Alway," was sung as a voluntary by the large congregation assembled. Rev. Mr. Smith, M. D., read from the 32d and 91st Psalms and 4th chapter of 2d Timothy. He also prayed. Remarks very appropriate for the occasion and affecting to the congregation were made by Mr. Foote, Judge F. L. Little, Hon. W. J. Northen, Colonel C. W. Dubose, Professor D. C. Abbott and Dr. Smith. Colonel H. D. Beman, unable to be present on account of enfeebled health, addressed a beautiful letter to Mr. Foote relative to the subject of the occasion, and this was read during the services by Professor Abbott. Suitable hymns were sung during these exercises, which were closed with communion. Dr. A. Mann was present, and preached last night.

Services in Elberton.

ELBERTON, September 8.—[Special.]—Yesterday the Methodist church here was draped in mourning, and memorial services were held in memory of Bishop George F. Pierce. The life and services of the dead bishop were feelingly portrayed in addresses and remarks by Revs. J. R. Parker and W. J. Noyes, Colonels J. H. Jones and P. E. Davant, Messrs. Thomas M. Smith, J. F. Auld and others. The services were very impressive and were listened to with marked attention.

Griffin Remembers Bishop Pierce.

GRIFFIN, September 8.—[Special.]—The Methodist church last Sunday night was the scene of a vast congregation which had assembled to witness and listen to the memorial service of the late Bishop Pierce. The entire appearance of the occasion bore an air of sadness. The pulpit and altar were draped in mourning. Appropriate addresses were made by Hon. E. W. Beck, R. H. Johnson, Walter Harris and W. H. Williams, all of whom acquitted themselves nicely. The remarks of Walter Harris were particularly interesting.

The Pierce Memorial in Savannah.

SAVANNAH, September 8.—[Special.]—Memorial services were held last night in honor of Bishop Pierce, at Trinity Methodist church. Very impressive character addresses were made by the several Methodist pastors in the city and by J. R. Saussy, S. B. Adams, John Houston, R. B. Reppard, Charles H. Dorsett and others. The church was very handsomely decorated with appropriate mourning symbols. The services continued until nearly midnight.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ROBERT A. ALSTON.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the funeral services of the late Mrs. Robert A. Alston occurred at the Methodist church in Decatur. A large number of friends from Atlanta, from Decatur and from the surrounding country filled the church to overflowing. The funeral discourse was delivered by Rev. Dr. Frazier, pastor of the Decatur Presbyterian church, who spoke of the Christian religion as the only philosophy that could teach men how to live or how to die, and of the complete resignation of Mrs. Alston as she realized that the end was approaching. The casket was covered with beautiful floral designs. It was followed to the grave by a large procession of both races. The pall bearers were General Gordon, Dr. Pharr, Messrs. George J. Howard, Z. D. Harrison, Howard Van Epps, Charles M. Neel, T. E. Walker, J. G. Zachery, Frank Gordon and F. H. Richardson. THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movements in Grain and Produce.

By telegraph to The Constitution.

CHICAGO, September 8—Transactions on 'change to-day in wheat and corn were phenomenally heavy. Wheat broke badly under the influence of larger receipts at this and other primary points, and under the apparent fear of still heavier receipts in the near future. Foreign advices were again weaker, which also served to aid the downward tendency here. Cash wheat closed nominally at 75¾@76, or within the lowest point known in this market in two years. Margins became exhausted in many cases, which helped to increase offerings. The decline on the regular board was 1½@1¾c below the lowest prices reached Saturday, and there was a still further decline of ¼@⅜c. On the afternoon board the closing was 78¼c for October, 79c for November and 80⅝c for December.

Corn attracted a great deal of attention, and trading was carried on amid more or less excitement. There was an early rally of ⅝@1½c, but a decline of ¾@⅞c followed, and the closing prices of the day ruled under Saturday. The latest quotations were 55¾c for September, 54½c for October.

Oats declined ⅜@⅝c, closing steady at 25½c for September, 25¼c for October and 29¼c for May.

Pork ruled dull and lower, at $17.00 for September and $11.37½ for all the year.

Lard was lower, closing at $7.10 for September, October and November.

SPOT CASH.

At the bare mention of Table Linens and Towels, we arise to say that our stock is full of elegant new things, and knowing as we do, when and how to buy goods cheap. we are enabled to silence the artillery of our competitors by naming a line of prices which they can't get in rifle range of. Spot Cash did the work.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

A White Woman at One Time Well Known Drops Dead.

Sunday afternoon Josie Owensby dropped dead at her home on Laynham's alley and yesterday Coroner Hilburn made a legal inquiry into the death. She was at one time well known in Atlanta. For years she was known as Josephine Timmons and although her life was not spotless, her great beauty was something wonderful. Years ago she married a man named Owensby but her intemperate habits had been so strong that she spent half her time drunk. For several weeks past she has been constantly drunk and Sunday evening went to the well to draw some water. While lowering the bucket into the well she dropped over dead. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death superinduced by intemperance.

"STAY AWAY FROM THERE."

That's the Advice Judge Anderson Gave a Young Man Yesterday.

Sunday afternoon Dr. W. C. Bellamy, who resides on Wheat street, ordered Chas. W. Spunner, a young man, away from his residence, and in a short while young Spunner caused Dr. Bellamy's arrest. Yesterday morning the case was given an airing in police court and Dr. Bellamy was discharged. The evidence established the fact that Charles W. Spunner has been visiting at Dr. Bellamy's for some time past. Dr. Bellamy for some cause did not like Spunner, and several days ago wrote him a neat note—which was read in police court during the trial, advising him to keep away. Spunner paid no attention to the note, and Sunday afternoon called again. As he passed up the steps Dr. Bellamy saw him and ordered him to leave. At the same time the doctor rushed into his residence and, securing his pistol, started for the door. Members of the doctor's family interferred and prevented him from reaching the door until Spunner could leave. Immediately after getting away Spunner caused Dr. Bellamy's arrest. After hearing the evidence Judge Anderson dismissed the case against Dr. Bellamy, and turning to Mr. Spunner, advised him to stay away from the doctor's house.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR.

Arranging For Its Observance in Atlanta—Pew Renting at the Synagogue.

One of the most sacred holidays of the Jewish church occur on the 19th of this month. It is their New Year's day, or Rosh Hashanah, and the coming anniversary will mark the year 5645, according to the Jewish calendar. This day marks the beginning of Tishri, the first month of the Jewish civil year, which corresponds to the seventh month of the Mosaic or ecclesiastical year. The day is strictly observed. In the synagogues there are impressive services held in accordance with the customs described in the twenty-third chapter of Leviticus. One of the distinguishing features of the services on these occasions is the blowing of horns. While the synagogue services are solemn the day is known as one of joy and is welcomed by the Jews in all parts of the world. Besides the religious ceremonies referred to arrangements for church regulations for the ensuing year are often perfected at this time.

Sunday afternoon the members of THE ATLANTA SYNAGOGUE met to select their pews for the year which will begin on the 19th, and to prepare for the appropriate observance of their new year's day. The synagogue is in a flourishing condition, and is now closing a prosperous year. The rabbi, Dr. Jacobson, has proven very popular and efficient during his three years ministery in Atlanta. The meeting at the synagogue Sunday attracted a large and interested audience.

DISTINGUISHED GEORGIANS

Whose Portraits Are Being Painted for the State—Stephens, Johnson and Jenkins.

The last legislature ordered that portraits of Herschel V. Johnson, Alexander H. Stephens and Charles J. Jenkins should be painted for the state capital. The awards for the portraits of Governor Johnson and Governor Stephens were given to Mrs. Gregy, of this city, and that for the portrait of Governor Jenkins to Mr. Carter, an ugusta artist. All three portraits will be ady for presentation by the time the legis ture meets in November when it is probable that they will be received with ceremonies similar to those at the reception of the Hill portrait last November.

Mr. Gregory is getting along finely with both her portrtraits. They are in oil and will present life-size likeness of her distinguished subjects. She studied Governor Stephens and made several pictures of him while he was living. Of Governor Johnson she obtained some fine photographs, and from his intimate friends athered such information as to his physical aracteristics as will enable her to give a good keness of him. The portraits will not ready for inspection for several weeks yet, t will be exhibited before the assembling the legislature. Mr. Carter is said to be ogressing finely with his portrait of Gover Jenkins. It is therefore probable that gallery of Georgia's distinguished sons soon be enriched with three noble figures.

VIOLATING THE LIQUOR LAW.

Recorder Anderson Has Three Cases of Sunday Whisky Selling Before Him.

Judge Anderson, of the police court, yesterday imposed fines aggregating one hundred and seventy-five dollars against three persons charged with violating the laws concerning the sale of whisky.

The most important case and the one which was assessed the heaviest fine was one against James Ballinger who keeps a saloon at the corner of Marietta and Forsyth streets. The saloon is in the basement of the building and has an entrance from Marietta and an entrance from Forsyth street. The saloon was first opened about five months ago and the license was granted over the protest of several citizens. The basement has a large area of floor and the counter and fixtures are located near the Marietta street entrance while the rear end of the floor has been divided into a half dozen small rooms. Each one of which has a door that can be closed by its occupants making the place safe from intrusion. These rooms soon after they had been established became known to members of the demi monde and were used by them frequently. Several weeks ago the police began to keep an eye upon the place so noisy was the conduct and a few days ago a case was made against Ballinger. The charge preferred against Ballinger was keeping a disorderly house and yesterday the case came up for trial. The officers who preferred the charge declared that the rooms were so arranged that the occupants were alone, and that men and women would congregate in them and drink beer, play cards and sing until a late hour of night. The defendant claimed that the doors were never closed, and denied that any boisterous singing or disorderly conduct ever occurred in his place. The evidence was lengthy, and Colonel Hulsey, the defendant's attorney, worked faithfully to convince the judge that the case had no foundation, but Judge Anderson reviewed the testimony, and asked the defendant to chip in seventy-five dollars. The case will probably be appealed.

THE NEW KIMBALL.

Mr. H. I. Kimball Returns from a Northern Trip—What He Says.

Mr. H. I. Kimball who has been absent from the city for the last four weeks returned yesterday.

"Tell me about your trip?" said a CONSTITUTION man as soon as Mr. Kimball had had a chance to survey the new hotel and get settled in his office.

"I have simply been away with Mr. Scoville to make selections and close up the negotiations for all of the interior decorations, furnishing, heating, plumbing, gas fixtures, carpets, draperies, linens, blankets and a thousand and one things that it would be difficult to mention. We made most of our final selections of furniture at Grand Rapids, and our other purchases were divided between Boston, New York and Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Scoville and I have not been through all the various manufacturing establishments, but we have visited the newest and latest improvements, the new Adams house in Boston and Murray Hill, in New York, and others which have endeavored to get all the latest improvements. I do not hesitate to say after seeing them all that the Kimball house, in its architectural exterior and its interior arrangements, its furnishing, etc., will surpass any of them."

"Do you mean to say the Kimball will be the boss of them all?"

"The very boss. We found that the hotel is known everywhere, and it is generally conceded that Atlanta's pluck in going forward with this enterprise placed her several inches higher than she has ever stood before. I don't believe there is a place anywhere in the whole country that has a better reputation in all respects than Atlanta has to-day."

"How has the work progressed in your absence?"

"Splendidly. We are putting up our fire proofing and one story is ready and plasterers will be put in to-morrow. They will be followed by gas fitters, plumbers, electric bell hangers, and there will be no difficulty in opening up the hotel to the public by January 1st. The work is being crowded with all possible speed."

M. Charley Beermann, who has been working like a beaver since Mr. Kimball has been gone, says if nothing happens he will have all the walls up and the roof on in five weeks.

RELUCTANT REGISTRATION.

Names of Voters Slowly Coming in—The Books to Close on the Twentieth.

On the 22d of August the registration books for the voters of Fulton county were opened at every precinct. They are to close on the 20th of this month and as yet not one-fifth of the full vote has been registered. Up to last night 515 names had been enrolled on the books for the south Atlanta district which are kept in the basement of the court house. About 360 names had been enrolled at the office for the north Atlantic district which is near the corner of Marietta and Peachtree streets. These are the only two offices in the city and they have enrolled less than 900 votes out of between 5,000 and 6,000. The offices are open from nine to five daily, and registration can be had only between those hours. No person who has not registered by the 20th will be entitled to vote in any of the state, county or national elections now in prospect. Each applicant for registration is required to subscribe an oath that he has paid all taxes due by him up to the present year. As the time for closing the books approaches the registration will doubtless be faster. There is ample time yet to register the full vote of the county but there appears to be very little interest in the matter. One reason for the small number of names given is found in the fact that there are a great many delinquent tax payers in the county.

A BEAUTIFUL STRUCTURE.

The New Central Presbyterian Church Now in Process of Erection.

Atlanta is famous alike for the number of its churches and for the elegance of its houses of worship. Among all its beautiful church edifices the new Central Presbyterian church will be conspicuous. It is situated admirably on Washington street just oppostie Capitol square. The old church was large and comfortable, but the growing congregation and the advance in the general style of architecture in Atlanta suggested its removal to give place to the new structure. The work upon it is now sufficiently well advanced to give some idea of the extent and style of the completed edifice. It was designed by Mr. E. G. Lind, of this city. The architecture is fine Gothic, and the elevations exhibited by the architect show a REMARKABLY HANDSOME BUILDING.

It will front directly on the street, and will present a massive and imposing appearance. The front is to be of Tennessee limestone, which is about as white as marble and stands all the tests of climate and weather without staining. The rear will be of the finest pressed brick and trimmings of limestone. The interior will be in keeping with the elegance of the exterior. In the basement there will be several reception rooms, a library and pastor's study. The main space on this floor, however, will be taken up by a lecture room. It will be especially adapted for Sunday-school uses by an arrangement of partitions which will divide it into various apartments but which in a moment can be sunk through the floor and leave one large hall. The main auditorium will be arranged with every consideration of

TASTE AND COMFORT.

It will be supplied with orchestra chairs arranged on an incline floor in semi-circles which narrow down to the pulpit. In a raised gallery behind the pulpit will be placed the choir and the organ. Another gallery will extend all around the auditorium. The seating capacity of the church will be 1,200, and it will cost $40,000. The work will be far enough advanced by December to allow the congregation the use of the basement and the entire edifice will be finished next year. It will be one of the handsomest churches in the south—an ornament to Atlanta, and on honor to the congregation that is building it.

ABOUT POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

The Board of Police Commissioners in Regular Session—Some Misdeeds.

The police commissioners convened in regular session last night. The meeting was held in their chamber at police headquarters and was finely attended. Supernumery Mack Hill resigned and T. C. Ryan was elected to fill the vacancy. The report of Chief Connolly showed that the police department has been faithful and vigilant during the past month. The reports of the station house keepers and the captains were read and approved.

RECKLESS DRIVING.

Chief Connolly yesterday issued a general order to the police force instructing them to arrest every person found driving faster than a walk over a street crossing. He also ordered cases made against everybody who drives at an unsafe speed. He says he is determined to break up reckless and dangerous driving.

SOME ARRESTS.

Yesterday Mounted Officer Clarke arrested Lon Harrison, a negro man, near West End. Harrison is charged with burglary. The same officer gave Henry Clarke a cell upon the charge of larceny.

Molly Reynolds was taken in by Patrolmen Brenning and Poole. She is charged with larceny.

AN UNWISE DRUG CLERK.

Sunday a negro man entered Dr. Stillman's drug store on Whitehall street, the corner of Garnett, and stating to the clerk that he was sick, wanted to buy a quart of liquor. The clerk believed the negro's statment, and without thinking of violating the law, gave the darkey the whisky. About two blocks from the drug store the negro met Patrolman Moncrief, and showing him the bottle of liquor, stated that he had purchased it at Stillman's. The patrolman at once entered a case against the druggist, and yesterday morning Judge Anderson asked him to contribute fifty dollars and cost. The doctor gave up the wealth.

GAVE HIS BOARDERS LIQUOR.

Jerry Thompson, a negro man who runs a lunch counter on Ivy street, was arraigned for violating the Sunday liquor law. Patrolmen Stroud and Martin were the prosecuting witnesses, and established the fact that Thompson had been "giving his boarders a drink of liquor every morning at breakfast." Judge Anderson couldn't exactly define the word "giving," and sent for a Webster's unabridged. After consulting a fly leaf of the big book, he turned to Thompson and told him to give up fifty and cost, but not to give any more appetizers at his restaurant to his boarders.

"FILL UP THAT GRAVE."

This Ground Henceforth is Consecrated to the City's Need.

About three miles west of the city is an old graveyard in which for fifty years the dead of the neighborhood have been laid to rest. A church once also marked the spot where the rude forefathers of the hamlet sleep, but it succumbed to the touch of time and disappeared from the scene, leaving nothing but the graveyard with its rail pens around the little hillocks and its rude memorials of uncarved stone.

Now it happens that this same graveyard is on a piece of land fifty acres in extent, which was bought a few years ago to be used by the county as a poor farm. The county commissioners, however, decided to keep their present quarters and sold the land to the city a few days ago. As the city seems bent on encircling herself with a belt of scavengerings, to coin a word, this place has been made a dumping ground, a sort of terminus for the city's overland sewer route.

Saturday some simple country people appeared in the old graveyard and dug a grave. A man had died in the neighborhood and his friends wanted to give him a narrow cell in the peaceful little graveyard along with the company who had gone before. The picks had torn up the red clay, and the oblong hole was ready to receive the coffin. As the grave diggers ceased their labors and wiped the perspiration from their brows a man approached and said as one who spoke by authority:

"Gentlemen, you can't bury any one here. That grave must be filled up."

"Why?" asked the astonished rustics whose ancestors lay sleeping around them.

The reason was plain. The city owned the land and no trespassing was to be allowed. It was not in keeping with the eternal and everlasting fitness of things to bury men and dump the refuse of the city on the same piece of land and therefore the city authorities had sent a man out to see that people with dead folks to bury, did not disturb the consecrated ground any more.

The grave was filled, the ruralists departed and their dead friend was laid to rest in a quiet grave, above which the rumble of the night soil wagon and the rattle of the dump-cart are not heard.

Mr. James Re-Opens.

Yesterday Mr. John H. James re-opened his bank according to his announcement in Sunday's CONSTITUTION. Yesterday afternoon a CONSTITUTION man asked him how the outlook for his business was. He said: "Excellent. I have a good big number of depositors already, and they will continue to come, I am sure."

Summer is Not Over.

Clearly summer is not gone, and some of the summer hotels are determined not to close yet. Colonel Huff has decided to keep New Holland open until October 1st—a decision that will be received with pleasure by the hundreds who delight to visit that popular resort. See his advertisement.

Crop Prospects in Georgia.

Commissioner Henderson yesterday stated that within the past fifteen days the cotton prospect has fallen off in several sections of Georgia fully 33⅓ per cent from what was promised before the drought set in. The advices from nearly every section bring the most gloomy reports as to the effects of the prolonged dry spell.

An Enterprizing Floridian.

THE CONSTITUTION had a very pleasant call from Colonel Fred. L. Robertson, of the Florida Crescent, who is visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. T. S. Boswell, assistant city engineer.

Colonel Robertson is one of the leading democrats and business men of Florida. He moved his paper from Fort Reid, Orange county, to Brooksville, Hernando county, in 1879, and has the largest circulation of any country paper in the state. Governor Bloxham appointed him on his staff in recognition of his activity in developing the state, and General Sebring appointed him county commissioner, and afterwards secured his appointment as assistant state commissioner for the world's cotton exposition at New Orleans. Last fall, getting tired of being out of telegraphic reach of the telegraphic world, he organized the Brooksville telegraph company, of which he is president, and now has Cedar Keys and intermediate points connected with Wildwood via Brookville, and will, by the first of November, have every point of importance on the gulf between Tampa, Point Pinallis and above named point in close telegraphic communication.

He is also agent of the Disston land company, representing their fine lands in Herdando county.

What Shall the Harvest Be?

The summer is ended—what shall the harvest be? If you have sowed liberally you will reap richly. But if not—remember that the next (the 173d) Grand Monthly Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery will happen on Tuesday, October 14th, 1884 —full information of which can be had of M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. At the drawing (the 171st) of August 12th, among the results, the following is reported: No. 15,365 drew the first capital of $75,000. It was sold in fifths—one was held by Eugene Gaudins, No. 231 St. Peter's st., New Orleans; another by Mr. Louis Seymour, of Memphis, now employed as a carpenter at the Grand Cotton Exposition Building at New Orleans. No. 53,803 drew second capital prize of $25,000, sold in New York. No. 29,862 drew third capital prize of $10,000, sold in fifths—two to Mr. T. S. Tutwiler, of Sanford, Fla., collected through Columbus (Miss.) Ins. and Banking Co. The fourth capital prizes of $6,000 each went to Nos. 1,157 and 55,475, sold in fractional parts hither and yon, among others two-fifths to A. B. Glover, No. 25 S. Compton Ave., St. Louis, Mo.; one-fifth to Mr. Louis S. Day, of New Haven, Conn., and to other parties in Washington, D. C., and in New Orleans, La. But we will rest for a period. (To be continued indefinitely.)

53 WHITEHALL STREET ATLANTA GA.

TEN TO EIGHT.

The Atlantas Come Near Losing a Game With the Georgetowns by Loose Playing.

The immense crowd at the park yesterday enjoyed the game between the Atlantas and Georgetowns hugely.

The game to-day will be even a better one, and the crowd will be larger. Russ and Sleiger will form the Atlantas battery, and Lang will again try to take his place behind the bat. His hand is much better and he thinks he can play his old game to-day. Mr. Ed Peters, of the Atlanta street car company, will have the grounds sprinkled this morning, so that there will be no dust this evening. The directors will provide ice water for the comfort of the audience.

The last games of the season are now being played, and all lovers of the sport had better not miss to-day's game. The game will be called at 3:30, sharp.

Details of the Game.

Yesterday afternoon the handsome Georgetowns reappeared in Atlanta, after making a tour of the other baseball cities of the state. They were heartily greeted by their Atlanta friends, and from the beginning to the end of the game had a liberal backing in the crowd. They presented Ellwood and Lasher as their battery, while Masran and Hunter served for the home nine. The Atlantas started off with a big bulge, and had the game in their own hands up to the eighth inning, when they seemed to go all to pieces with a crash. Every point broke down at once, and an inning bristling with inexcusable errors was played, probably as bad an inning as was ever seen on the ground. The visitors hit Masran several times, but their seven runs were piled up by wild throws, muffs, and miscalculations of various kinds. The Georgetowns then had the game, but dropped it in the next inning, when Atlanta scored three more runs and then goose egged the visitors. In the ninth inning Elwood was hit on the shin by a fearful grounder from Heinzman and was compelled to retire. Clem pitched the rest of the inning, and Craig, of Atlanta, took Clem's place in right field. The same nines will play again to-day when Russ and Sleiger will be the Atlantas battery, and Clem and Lang will appear for the Georgetowns, a good game may be expected. The following is the score of yesterday's game:

Cholera Cure

IN AN INTERVIEW WITH THE ATLANTA Constitution Dr. S. T. Biggers, principal of the Georgia Eclectic Medical college, states that during his experience with the cholera in Nashville, he prescribed one tablespoonful of the Tincture of Red Pepper to one bottle of BIGGERS' SOUTHERN REMEDY with almost unfailing success and The Constitution advises its readers to ever keep on hand a bottle which by its timely use will save so much pain and anxiety.

A PROMINENT PHYSICIAN OF ATLANTA

prescribes Dr. Biggers Southern Remedy in all bowel and stomach afflictions, and states that for restoring the little child that is wasting away by the daily drainage upon its system it is unequaled as it is also for Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramp Colic, Cholera Morbus, AND ANY CHILD IS PLEASED TO TAKE IT.

PROFESSOR A. BARILI, of the Atlanta Female Institute, states that under no circumstances would he suffer his family to be without a bottle of Dr. Biggers Southern Remedy, the timely use of some having relieved almost every member of his family of some bowel or stomach trouble.

THE OLD GRAND MOTHER

when called to the bedside of the little child suffering with that night fiend to children and horror to parents, CROUP, the old grand mother used to send for mullein and make a tea and at once relieve it—made into a tea now and combined with sweet gum it presents in Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein a pleasant and effective cure for Croup, Whooping-Cough, Colds and Consumption. Price 25cts. and $1.00. Ask your druggist for it. Manufactured by Walter A. Taylor, Atlanta, Ga., proprietor Taylor's Premium Cologne.

Messrs. I. B. Pilgrim and others: The above note explains itself. I most sincerely acknowledge my heartfelt thanks to you, gentlemen, for the kindness thus bestowed upon me, in this my second bereavement, by death's mysterious sting. I shall ever remember the kind printers of Atlanta; they have been very kind to me on two occasions, the death of my husband at the Cartersville explosion 1882, and the sudden death of my little boy, Henry Dewson Wood, on September 4, 1884, by falling from a window and dislocating his head and neck. May you all, gentlemen, live prosperously in this world, and when you come to die may you be prepared to meet your God, and wear that golden crown of Heaven, which is prepared by God Himself for the helpers of friendless widows and and orphans, is my sincere prayers for you all for ever. Allow me, also in this connection, to return my sincere thanks to the printers of Jas. P. Harrison & Co.'s Printing House, for a similar donation. And also to Messrs. Mangum, Dunlap, Johnson, Hall, and Hanye, for their liberalty in paying funeral expenses.
